for a mession. Mr. Bavadra's government was overthrown last month by a infinity coupt in the South Pacific island state, a member of the Commonwealth group of nations. Here the arrival Buckingham Palace said the queen had decided not to see him, after advance from her representative in Fig. Governor-General Ram Sir Penaia Ganilau. A palace spokesman said: The queen has made the decision that she will not be able to see him. This followed consultations with the governor-general of Fig. The spokesman, added, however, that the queen's private secretary, Sir decisions, added, however, that the queen's private secretary, Sir decisions Heacting, would meet Mr. Bavadra on Monday. On his arrival at Headbrow airport, Mr. Bavadra told reporters: "I hope to discuss with the queen the events taking place in my country. She is my queen, she is the micea of Fiji. She is bound to at least listen to me." (See related story on Page 3).

Iraq reports foiling Iranian attack

BAHRAIN (Agencies) — Iraq said Sunday Iran suffered huge losses in an abortive night attack, while Iran said Kurdish rebels killed more than 80 Iraqi troops in a battle in northern Iraq and scored a string of other successes in recent days. The claims were made in a series of military communiques reported by the official news agencies of the warring sides. Iraq reported its forces inflicted huge losses on the Iranians, foiling a lightning night attack in the northern sector of the 1,180 kilometre-long frontline. The Iraqi communique said Iraqi helicopter gunships flew 43 combal missions in various sectors of the extensive front "iofficing further losses in men and equipment, returning safely in base." The communique did not give the exact location of the latest Iranian attack. It said only it was in the 5th army sector, covering the northern mountainous area, where Iraq had reported repulsing another big Iranian attack on Friday. where Iraq had reported repulsing another big Iranian attack on Friday. The Iranian daily war communique indicated only routine activities along the frontline, speaking only of 10 Iraqi troops killed or wounded.

red walls [4] Volume 12 Number 3494

8 arrakesh sies will ma

AMMAN, MONDAY JUNE 8, 1987, SHAWWAL 12, 1407

Price: Jordan I 00 fils; Syria 1 pound; Lebanon I pound; Saudi Arabia I.50 riyals; UAE I.50 dirhams; Great Britain 25 pence

Poli finds more European support for Soviet peace policies

eckdays because of the Bujumba by the Bujumba been Buladay been Bujumba buju been noted by the British dent Ronald Reagan, according been noted by to polls from nine countries published surface. The Stockholmis leads to be based newspaper Dagens Nyheime Creates by ter, which commissioned the Baptiste Bapa, polls, said West European attimist the church indes towards the Soviet Union assistent with were clearly waxming. One of the nsistent with of were clearly warming. One of the imes we have h polls six main questions com-it ili-intention pared the Soviet Union with the ided More than United States. Asked which of oded. More that the two superpowers "does the Roman Cathole most to cut, back the arms race," Il per cent said the U.S. and 32 per cent said the Soviet Union. Forty-four per cent said both. ad khan June The polls were conducted March if for increase 24-May 30 in West Germany, ppment Minus France; Great Britain. Greece, ence the limit France; Great Britain. Belgium. ence the literalitaly, Netherlands, Belgium, 12 of 100 miles Switzedand and Sweden, and ten Mr. June 6,064 people were interviewed. interacy rate wil 12 sentenced to jail in o has not public Algerian political it is we in the Trial mister." He sai ALGIERS (R) — Twelve follow-mich estimate in a of former President Abmad er cent by 100 ers of former President Ahmad Ben Bella were sentenced to be-Closure ween two and 10 years in jail on unday for plotting against the Algerian state. Four of the acand time finding used were tried in their absence the bank beamy the state security court, which bank was order counted 10 others in the group aper reported that 22 defendants; the official n said he wallows agency APS reported. They ss of the petition re supporters of Mr. Ben Bella Manila Basis the lives in earlie in Europe and is her and hundrin-leader of the Algerian Demo-depositors the ratio Movement, which cames shut the Maniangua for a multi-party system in sked to be paintigeria. APS said the trial was trended by representatives of the London-based human rights Award rganisation Amnesty Interna-

SSAIN Mohammed Inderground group warns' Kuwait

ince for the Family promoting im EIRUT (R) — A little-known North and Sill Anderground groups said Sunday Banclaks would take action against cent in 1981 m2-arwait if any harm was inflicted 105 million para six Kuwaitis sentenced to eath there on Saturday. A typeritten statement delivered to an itemational news agency in the g his soll ame of The Forces of the rophet Mohammad in Kuwait" as been arresidescribed the sentences "on our ped in order wifinjahedeen brothers" as unjust. n police has said its warning was being when his mainwarded to "the emir of cy grew supportunait, his family and the whole that she make merican regime in Kuwait." he abduction of he six Kuwartis were convicted in the state security court of and analysis debotaging vital oil installations nd plotting to nadermine inwait's territorial integrity and point and economic fabric. ibyan foreign nonesi Propininister in Tehran cansulos de la constante de la These recently Minister Jadallah Azzuz Al Phose recently Minister Jadallah Azzuz Al Ledind and trails arrived in Tehran Sunday ic proposed in Tehran Sunday in Francian officials. in Promotor States with Iranian officials, inc Minister Ali inch Market Velayati and Parliament from his peaker Hashemi Rafsanjani, the acith Common reasonnt Rafsanjani, the acit. Organization Islamic Republic News (IRNA) reported. The (M. Parison agency quoted Mr. Talhi as term-Hambur Countries was routine within the certified and selections between Libya and sale is discountries was routine within the certified and another the two countries. Libya another than an in the Guiff was reports Iran in the Guiff was gainst Iraq. But relations bey fiving sported strained in recent lonths

INSIDE

stack by a f

DI CONTRACT

. L. Tare Fac

OF SHEET

AIDS DE

الخدي

Self-styled patriots reveal hidden pockets in Iran-contra arms deal, fication project, page 3 n patient . The chameleon in Israeli politics, page 4 Opinion polls came nui was appear under spotlight in British election campaign,

Settlers rampage through Dheishe

Arab homes attacked and property damaged in West Bank refugee camp

OCCUPIED JERUSALEM — Armed Jewish settlers rampaged through the Dheishe refugee camp in the occupied West Bank overnight, damaging Arab property and clashing with Palestinians in the camp.

Combined agency dispatches

According to Palestinian and stoned by Palestinians demon-Israeli reports, about 100 settlers entered the camp around 10 p.m. Saturday night and broke into some homes, set one car on fire, slashed automohile tyres, broke windows of homes and cars as well as destroyed solar heating panels in private homes.

The Palestine Press Service said the settlers arrived at the camp in huses and used the vehicles to block the main highway linking Hebron with Jerusalem. As they rampaged through the camp. Palestinians came ont of their homes to confront them and then the Israeli army intervened to disperse the two groups. The agency added that clashes besettlers and residents lasted until 2 a.m. before the Israeli army brought the situation under control.

Israeli reports said the settlers' action came after an Israeli bus others were wounded Sunday in a

Israel's self-proclaimed "security zone," some eight kilometres

north of the international border,

the Israeli army said in Tel Aviv.

wounded soldiers were transferred to hospital. One soldier suf-

while the other was lightly

An armoured SLA column

supported by Israeli troops rumbled into the southern Lebanese village of Kfar Shouba at mid-morning Sunday and conducted a bouse-to-house search for suspected commandos, police re-

Three villagers were killed and two wounded in the operation that was apparently mounted in retaliation for a roadside bomb blast in which three SLA soldiers were wounded Saturday, accord-kilometres north of the Israeli

Kfar Sbonha is three wounded, it reported.

in South Lebanon.

ing to the police.

ported.

Israel radio said the two other separate incidents.

strating against the Israeli occupation on the eve of the 20th anniversary of the 1967 war.

crowd at Dheishe by lobbing teargas cannisters and firing shots in the air, said Brigadier General Amram Mitzna, head of the Israeli occupation army in the West Bank.

Gen. Mitzna accused the settlers of committing "acts of provocation and violence that are hard to describe.' Six settlers from Kiryat Arha, about 25 kilometres south of Dheishe, were arrested hy police after the army filed complaints against them, Gen. Mitzna said. In addition, the army clamped a curfew overnight on the camp of 15,000 Palestinians near Bethlenem, ordering all Dheishe residents to stay in their homes. Gen. Mizzna, who met Snnday ing fire straight into the camp. breaking windows of bouses. smashing windows of cars and trying to set one car on fire."

Gen. Mitzna said his troops with a delegation of Palestinian residents from Dbeishe, accused

"an extremist minority of open-prevented all but about three of the settlers from entering Dheishe, but accused the settlers of "beating the soldiers who tried to stop them. Bishara Asfour, one of the

The Israeli army dispersed the Palestinians who met with Gen. Mitzna, said windows in his bome at the edge of the camp were broken and outside walls were pockmarked with bullet shells. "My children couldn't sleep all night. They were crying," Mr. Asfour told AP. "What's to stop the settlers from doing this

The settlers told authorities they drove to Dheishe to protest a stoning incident Friday, when an Israeli woman was slightly injured hy hroken glass after a hus was stoned as it drove hy the know nothing about this. I was resting peacefully at home when this happened," Mr. Assour

(Continued on page 3)

GCC studies bids for Gulf peace and security

IEDDAH (R) — Renewed efforts to end the Iran-Iraq war and joint security plans for the Gulf Arah states were well to the fore as GCC foreign ministers continued their two-day talks on

The Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) ministers are meeting amidst fresh concern, since the May I7 missile attack on the U.S. frigate Stark, at the threat of a wider conflict in the Gulf, possibly involving the superpowers.

Rashid Abdullah Al Nuaimi, the United Arah Emirates (UAE) minister of state for foreign affairs, said the ministers discussed united security strategies and military cooperation at their opening session bere.

Quoted by the Arah News newspaper, be said the delegates from Sandi Arabia, the UAE, Kuwait, Bahrain, Qatar and Oman — the six GCC states would also review efforts by the United Nations Security Council to frame a resolution aimed at

Soviet Union, reassessing their military presence in the Gulf, are studying plans to increase their forces in the region to protect nian or Iraqi attacks.

region, the New York Times re-

Mr. Vorontsov said the Kremlin bad also proposed talks with the nearly seven-year-old Guif war but had received no answer.

In the wide-ranging interview be also said the Soviet Union was aiming for a summit between President Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev in Washington,

KING ATTENDS GRADUATION: His Majesty King Hussein, the Supreme Commander of the Armed Forces, Sunday attends the graduation ceremony of a group of security and protection officers. The King distributed certificates to the graduates and prizes to excelling cadets in the course. The graduation ceremony was attended by members of the Royal family, Armed Forces Commander-in-Chief General Sharif Zaid Ibn Shaker, Chief of Staff Lieutenant General Fathi Abn Taleb, Public Security Department Director Lieutenant General Abdul Hadi Al Majali and high-ranking army officers (Petra photo).

Hoss asks Gemayel to act against Karami killers or quit

BEIRUT (Agencies) — Acting Prime Minister Salim Hoss demanded Sunday that President Amin Gemayel should either take action against the assassins of Prime Minister Rashid Karami, or resign.

The statement worsened the deepening crisis that threatens to rekindle civil war fighting and solidify the partition of Lebanon into sectarian mini-states.
"His silence is deafening," said

Mr. Hoss of Mr. Gemayel's failure to say anything about the progress of investigations into Mr. Karami's assassination a week ago.
"We demand that the president

speaker of parliament did," Mr. Hoss added in a statement broadcast hy Beirut Radio.

Parliament Speaker Hussein Husseini resigned Friday. He accused Mr. Gemayel of failing to crack down on right-wing extremists who Muslim leaders contend murdered Mr. Karami.

"The door to solution seems locked. The key is with one man and if we ask the head of state, the president, to take a historic stand on the issue," Mr. Hoss, a Sunni Muslim, said.

Pobtical sources told Reuters Mr. Hoss' challenge to Mr. Gemayel was probably a call for the assassins to be named, not a veiled demand for the president Mr. Husseini's resignation has added weight to charges hy mili-tia leaders Walid Junblatt and Nabih Berri that the army and Christian "Lehanese Forces" militia rigged the bomh.

Mr. Junhlatt has said Mr. Gemavel is implicated too. Mr. Berri said Saturday that investigators into the bomb blast were in constant touch with him as justice minister and that he believed the "Lehanese Forces" were responsible.

Mr. Berri said the bomb was rigged at the Adma army air base of Beirut and that Lebanon was "on the hrink of a dangerous partition" over the affair.

Gemayel defends army

Shortly after Mr. Hoss spoke, President Gemayel was quoted as defending the army against charges that it was involved in the murder of Mr. Karami.

"I will not accept at all making the army into a scapegoat," the 44-year-old president told visitors at his home town of Bikfaya, northeast of Beirut.

It was Mr. Gemayel's first public response to the charges from Muslim leaders that be, the army and the "Lehanese Forces" militia were behind the assassination of Mr. Karami on board an army helicopter six days ago.

"The army will not be (used as) a cover-up for those who commit-ted crimes," he said. "The cri-minal, whoever he is, should get his severe punishment according to a just myestigation."

Mr. Gemayel described the Lebanese armed forces as the "basic insurance for the homeland's independence and preserv-ing complete sovereignty and

Mr. Hoss declared in his hroadcast statement on Sunday that those who engineered and perpetrated the assassination plot.

"Otherwise we will have murdered the unity of Lehanon and executed the chances of dialogue, freedom and democracy ... of which the martyred prime minister was the champion. "There will he no resurrection of the legitimate authority in Lehanon unless this legitimate authority makes up its mind to deal with the assassination crime. Two investigatory committees

one military and one judicial, have listened to the testimony of Carlucci and Baker warn Iran against deploying missiles in Gulf VENICE (Agencies) - U.S.

President Ronald Reagan's top aides on Sunday mounted a campaign of tough talk to dissuade Iran from deploying Chinese-made Silkworm anti-ship missiles along the Gulf. "It would be very unhelpful for them to try to use these missiles to interfere with freedom of navigation," said National Security Council Adviser Frank Car-

White House Chief of Staff Howard Baker said "the world would be better off and frankly Iran would be better off' if the missiles were not deployed. "Iran should think very bard about deployment," Mr. Baker The warnings from the Reagan administration came only hours after Iranian Deputy Foreign Minister Hossein Sheikholeslam said Iran would strike back if the United States intervened militarily in the Gulf. "If the Americans make the mistake of attacking us, we will definitely strike back. If they attack us inside our country, we will attack them inside their country. If they attack our ships we will attack their ships," be told reporters in Vienna.

In Venice, Mr. Carlucci said Iran's acquisition of the radarguided Silkworms "adds a new dimension" to the threat to vital sea lanes in the Gulf region.

The missiles have a range of about 80 kilometres and are abont three times more powerful than the Iraqi missile which killed 37 Americans aboard the frigate

Mr. Baker, in an impromptu

the S at of Hormuz would be "an escalation of a weapons system... a dangerous thing, that "I don't think the United States ought to say what it's going to claim of responsibility for the Iraqi missile attack on the Stark. Hamid Sadeki, an official of Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guard, said Sunday that the Iraqi pilot acted on instructions from Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's woman Sondra McCarty said U.S. officials had no reason to believe that Tehran was behind the attack.

"Our investigation gave no in-Asked if the United States would be willing to listen to any supporting information the Iranians offer, McCarty said: "I can only refer you back to our accidental and apologised to the United States. "Iran is responsible for the South Lehanese town of

"Iran is willing to appear before a public court of inquiry in the United States to prove its responsibility and reveal all details of the operation," according to Mr. Sadeki.

Tehran's official Islamic Republic News Agency (IRNA) said Sunday Iran's Revolutionary Guards corps was ready to carry out Parliament Speaker Hashemi Rafsaniani's warning against American intervention in the

The agency said the corps announced its "full readiness" in a statement issued at its headquarters in Tehran Saturday.

Mr. Rafsanjani, who repre-sents Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini in the Iranian supreme defence council, warned the Gulf Arah countries during public prayers Friday that Iranian forces would raid any military facilities granted to the United States on their territory.

In his comments in Vienna. Mr. Sheikholeslam indicated that Iran was open to mediation to defuse tension in the Gulf region. "We are prepared to accept help from other countries in the Gulf," Mr. Sheikholeslam told reporters. "Problems concerning the war are so complicated that they cannot be solved in the short term, but the problem in the Gulf is argent, critical and solvable," he

Kuwait may turn to Moscow if U.S. deal fails to materialise: Washington faces uphill task in efforts for arms ban, page 2

Venice summit opens today

VENICE (Agencies) — Seven Western leaders made final preparations Sunday for their economic summit that also will focus on security issues such as the Gulf war and arms control in Europe.

The leaders of the United States, Japan, Britain, West Germany. France, Canada and Italy, beginning their annual meeting on Monday, are not expected to announce any monetary or fiscal

U.S. President Ronald Reagan, instead, emphasised an emerging U.S. Soviet agreement to remove hundreds of nucleartipped missiles from Europe and the threats to shipping posed by the war between Iran and Iraq.

Before the summit, Mr. Reagan sent letters to the other leaders calling for western soli-darity in keeping open Gulf wa-ters where attacks on neutral shipping threaten the flow of Middle East oil.

Of greatest concern are Chinese-made Silkworm missiles sold to Iran. Mr. Reagan's national security adviser, Frank Carlucci, said Saturday that Iran already has received 20 of the ship-killing rockets and that more are on order.

The Western leaders meeting here are also expected to try to forge closer cooperation on combatting terrorism and fighting the deadly disease AIDS.

Two Italian missile-equipped frigates, backed hy patrol launches and armoured helicopters, have sealed off the conference venue, the Venetian island of San Giorgio, a five-minute boat ride across the lagoon from St. Mark's

The leaders are coming with their own agendas for the June 8-10 meeting. But none of them will want to rock the allied gondola. Mr. Reagan, who arrived in Italy on Wednesday to prepare for the summit and meet Pope John Paul, is determined to prove that he is still capable of strong leadership despite his problems at home, where be is beset by a frequently bostile Congress and the Iran-contra arms scandal. British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher is partly staking ber future at Venice. The 61year-old Conservative leader faces elections on the day after the summit and is hoping to use her presence among world leaders to deliver a knockout blow against her socialist challenger. Labour leader Neil Kinnock Canadian Prime Minister Brian Mulroney was the first to join Mr. Reagan when be arrived early Snnday at Marco Polo airport, now closed to all but summitrelated traffic. West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl will be attempting to stave off allied pressure to force West Germany, one of the economic powerhouses of the seven, to go for expansion to help ward off a threatened glohal recession. On May 29, Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone announced a $42 billion package to stimulate Japan's economy and suck in more exports, a measure designed to bead off "Japan bashing" at the summit. Mr. Nakasone is another of the summit's lame ducks. He is due to bow out as prime minister when party rules force bim to step down as leader of his Liberal Democratic Party in October. The Italians, also bolding parliamentary elections this week, are the lamest of them all. The host country is led by caretaker Prime Minister Amintore Fanfani, a Christian Democrat who will be able to do little more than act as moderator. In an Italian newspaper interview, Mr. Fanfani said Sunday be did not think Venice was the proper forum to resolve the Gulf security issue and suggested the United Nations would be better suited to handle it. French socialist President Francois Mitterrand and rightwing Prime Minister Jacques Chirac will continue their preelection sparring by arriving at different times and keeping to separate programmes.

eiter ich ichter ich wie ich ich ich ich referende ich ich

• Irbid completes electri-

AIDS the Lendl wins French Open, page 6
Airbus launches two new projects, page 7
Poll shows Thatcher on course to victory, page 8

Israeli soldier killed in Lebanon BEIRUT (Agencies) - An sector patrolled by the Norwe-Israeli soldier was killed and two gian contingent of the U.N.

roadside bomb blast in South Lehanon. Lebanon, where Israeli troops Police said another 75-man and their allies also shot dead five joint Israeli and SLA force had and wounded another five in two punched IO kilometres north of Israel's self-proclaimed "security The Israeli soldier was killed zone" in South Lehanon Saturduring an attack on an Israeli patrol day night, seizing a 16-year-old at about 8 a.m. near Taihe in villager.

The mainstream Shi'ite Amai militia sent a 20-man foot patrol to the area shortly after the villager was seized.

peacekeeping force in South

But the joint Israeli-SLA force ambushed the patrol, killing two Amal militiamen and wounding fered serious to moderate wounds three others, police said. An Amal communique later

Sunday confirmed the ambush. It Earlier, Lebanese police said identified the two dead men as Israeli troops and SLA men shot Amal's local military commanidentified the two dead men as dead five and wounded another der, Hussein Ali Hassan, and his five men in two separate incidents aide, Mohammad Ahbas Farhat. Their bodies were recovered

> Reuter said the attack on Amal fighters took place around the village of Zilaya in the Bekaa

Sunday morning, the communi-

The 100-strong force of Israeli troops and SLA militiamen advanced on Zilaya under cover of heavy artillery fire Saturday night, witnesses quoted by Reuter said. Zilaya, near Hasbaya 60 kilometres southeast of Beirut, is midway between the "security zone" and the Syrian army's front line some 1g kilometres to the border on the southern tip of the north at that point. Meeting reportedly planned between Sharaa and Aziz

AMMAN (J.T.) — The foreign ministers of Syria and Iraq are expected to meet at a Jordanian border point in he next few days, the Qatari News Agency (QNA) reported Sanday. The agency, quoting well-in-formed sources, said the planned meeting of Farouk Al Sharaa of Syria and Tareq Aziz of Iraq was expected to pave the way for a summit between Syrian President Hafez Al Assad and Iraqi President Saddam Hussein. The summit, the agency said, will be held in Jordan later this month and other Arab leaders are likely to take part in the meeting.

Mr. Sbaraa is due in Amman

on Wednesday as member of a

Syrian delegation headed hy

Prime Minister Abdul Raouf Al

meetings of the Joint Jordanian-Syrian Higher Committee which is co-chaired by Dr. Kasm and Prime Minister Zaid Rifai.

ONA added that Foreign Minister Taher Al Masri had postponed visits he was supposed to have made to Yugoslavia and South Korea and instead will join efforts to reconcile Iraq and Syria. The news agency quoted its sources as saying Jordan's efforts for Syrian-Iraqi reconciliation involved a gradual process beginning with an end to media attacks in Damascus and Bagbdad against each other, opening of the Syrian-Iraqi border, ending the shutdown of an Iraqi oil pipeline through Syrian territory and Damascus adopting a neutral Kasm. The delegation will attend stand in the Iran-Iraq war.

ending the war. Mr. Nuaimi was chairman for the closed discussions. Both the United States and the their merchant ships against Ira-In a related development, the Soviet Union does not intend to add to its force of three small warships in the Gulf despite its worry about U.S. plans in the

The newspaper, quoting an in-terview with Soviet First Deputy Foreign Minister Yuli Vorontsov. said Moscow was discussing ways to ensure freedom of shipping in the Gulf and the Indian Ocean with Iran, Iraq, India and other the United States on ways to stop The newspaper said Mr. Vorontsov declined to be quoted directly, but authorised use of his remarks.

Stark on May 17.

meeting with reporters outside Nmeirieb. "The decision was his botel in Venice, said that taken in Tehran and Iraqi tools putting the missiles in place near carried it out."

Iran would be better off not to do. Asked whether that meant the United States was prepared to launch a preemptive strike against the missiles, Mr. Baker avoided a direct answer, saying,

In Washington, U.S. officials on Sunday discounted an Iranian government. But State Department spokes-dication of any such involvement," she said.

original statement." Iraq bas said the attack was attack on the American frigate in the Gulf," said Mr. Sadeki in a speech at a mass rally in the

K

Kuwait may turn to Moscow if Congress opposes flag deal

KUWAIT (Agencies) — Kuwait is likely to seek more help from Moscow to protect its shipping against Iranian attacks if the American Congress opposes a deal to put half its tankers fleet under the U.S. flag, diplomatic and political sources say.

Plans to reflag 11 Kuwaiti tankers to give them U.S. naval protection in the Gulf have sparked fears in Washington that the United States could hecome embroiled in the Iran-Iraq war.

Iran, retaliating for Iraqi strikes against its vessels and oil installations, has stepped up attacks against shipping associated with Kuwait because of its support for Baghdad.

Kuwait, lying only 80 kilometres from the warfront and with more crude oil per square mile than another country, has chartered three Soviet oil tankers and agreed to lease more if the reflagging deal gets derailed, political sources said.

They said a proposal to put Kuwaiti tankers under the Soviet flag had also been discussed and apparently remained an option. "Kuwait, l believe, would be prepared to turn to Moscow," a Western diplomat said. 'And don't forget the Stinger snub."

Three years ago, the United States turned down a Knwaiti request to buy hand-held Stinger anti-aircraft missiles after the pro-Israeli lobhy argued they could fall into the hands of guerrillas hostile to Israel.

Washington instead approved an $85 million arms package for Kuwait with other air defences, but the emirate later signed a major weapons deal with Moscow said by local newspapers to be worth over $300 million.

It included SAM missiles, the Soviet equivalent of the Stingers. Kuwait, a country of 18,000 square kilometres and 1.7 million people, established diplomatic ties with the Soviet Union soon after gaining independence from Britain in 1961.

It was the only Gulf Arah state to have formal relations with Moscow until the United Arab Emirates and Oman followed suit within the last two years.

U.S. officials defending the reflagging deal have argued against creating more openings for Mos-cow to extend its influence in the Opposition in the United States to the reflagging deal follows disillusionment in Kuwait and other Gulf Arah countries over U.S. Middle East policies and arms sales to Tehran.

Especially galling to Kuwait, diplomats said, was the idea that the sales were to help free U.S. hostages held in Lebanon by pro-Iranian groups.

Kuwait has taken what one Western diplomat called 'a model stand against terrorism" reject-ing demands by the Islamic Jihad (holy war) group to free convicted bombers in exchange for the release of U.S. and French captives in Lebanon.

Meanwhile a high ranking Soviet official was reported Sunday as saying the Soviet Union has no plans to increase its force of three small warships in the Gulf despite its apprehension about U.S. plans to build up its fleet

The New York Times quoted Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Yuli Vorontsov as saying the Soviets were engaged in discussions with Iran, Iraq, India and other countries on ways to assure freedom of shipping in the Gulf and the Indian Ocean. Mr. Vorontsov reportedly told the Times that the Kremlin had proposed such talks with the United States but had not yet re-

Mr. Vorontsov also said the Soviet Union was aiming for a summit meeting in Washington in October. He expressed optimism that Soviet-American differences on a treaty to eliminate intermediate and shorter-range nuclear missiles in Europe would soon be overcome.

Moscow has had hints there have been talks between the warring nations of Iran and Iraq on assuring freedom of shipping in the Gulf, Mr. Vorontsov was quoted as saying, but apparently there have been no results. Mr. Vorontsov said the Soviets would like to hold talks with the United States on stopping the 61/2-year-old Gulf war, providing safety of shipping and assuring that the presence of U.S. and Soviet warships in the waterway would not lead to incidents.

Mr. Vorontsov was quoted as saying he felt there were disputed points between the two countries on the issue of an intermediaterange missile accord. But he said he expected a meeting in Washington this summer between Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze and Secretary of State George Shultz, and a summit later in the fall, the newspap-

2 Britons expelled * from Iran already in U.K.

LONDON (R) — The Foreign Office made no immediate response Saturday to Iran's expul-sion of five British diplomats, but said two already were in Britain and that three more dependents have left Iran as a precaution.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the officials dealing with the dispute will spend the weekendconsulting over a report by Christopher MacRae, head of the British mission in Tehran.

One of the diplomats ordered to leave within the week is second-ranking envoy Edward Chaplin, whose detention and beating in Tehran on May 28 led to the expulsion of five Iranian diplomatic staff from Britain.

Foreign Office Minister Timothy Renton said Saturday that he understood that Iran would drop charges against Cha-plin. The specific charges have not been made public, but British officials said they were false and could not be pressed anyway be-cause Mr. Chaplin has full diplomatic immunity.

Three British diplomats and seven dependents return to London from Iran on Friday.

U.S. faces uphill struggle for U.N. arms embarge in Gulf war

UNITED NATIONS (AP) - 15-nation Security Council, which The United States has been trying to strengthen U.N. peacemaking efforts in the Iran-Iraq war, but credibility problems and the political and economic interests of other countries have impeded progress, diplomats say.

The measure U.S. officials have proposed in negotiations with the four other permanent members of the U.N. Security Council - China, Britain, France and the Soviet Union - is a worldwide arms embargo against whichever country doesn't accept cease-fire. In the past, this has been Iran.

The U.S. effort, launched at the United Nations in late January, comes at a time of embarrassing revelations that the United States secretly sold weapons to Iran in 1985-86 in an effort to free American hostages held by Iranian-influenced kidnappers in Lebanon.

Those sales ran counter to "Operation Staunch," a U.S. programme started in 1983 to persuade U.S. allies not to sell arms to Iran. The secret sales have damaged U.S. credibility in the world body, said diplomats who spoke on the condition of not being identified.

If it got past the permanent members, the embargo would so the new U.S. proposal for an be less so need the approval of the full arms embargo is aimed at forcing expensive.

includes several countries dependent on oil passing through the Gulf. Those countries fear Ira-nian retaliation against their oil shipments if they go along with an arms embargo, a diplomat said. "Who wants to harm their trade relations?" asked the diplomat. "Japan gets 60 per cent of its oil through the Gulf. Are they going to mortgage their future relations with Iran? They have to think hard before they do that." Adoption of an arms embargo does not guarantee compliance, as demonstrated by the one the Security Council imposed in 1977 against South Africa. It has been violated by numerous countries. According to sources at the United Nations and in Washington, all speaking on the condition of not being identified, the five permanent council members have agreed to the first part of a settlement package on the Gulf war. It includes a call for a ceasefire, a return to pre-war borders and negotiations on a long-term solution. The Security Council has included those points in nearly all seven resolutions it has adopted since the war started in September 1980. Generally, Iraq has accepted them and Iran has not.

It is the arms embargo, con tained in the second part of the settlement plan under the heading "enforcement measures."

that has divided the five permanent council members, diplomats To restore credibility and strengthen their bargaining posi-tion, U.S. officials, including the man in charge of "Operation Staunch," have been trying to distance themselves from the arms-for-hostages affair. "The people who are running the Operation Staunch were not involved in any way in sales to Iran, so our effort was always straightforward here and we have done our best in the past few months to restore our credibil ity," said Edward J. Derwinski head of the State Department Office on Arms Transfers. 'It was a case of saying to everybody ... yes it was a contradiction to our Staunch policy but the record is clear and Stannch continues properly." Mr. Derwinski conceded in telephone interview from Washington that even if the Security Council endorses the U.S. proposal, some weapons will seep through on the black market. He said they would likely be less sophisticated and more

'Missiles fired before Stark warned Iraqi jet'

MIAMI (R) — The USS Stark did not try to warn an Iraqi warplane to prevent it attacking until more than a minute after the jet had launched its two deadly missiles against the frigate and was headed home, the Miami Herald reported.

In an article published in its Sunday editions, the Herald said it obtained the information which contradicts accounts given shortly after the incident — from U.S. and Iraqi records, including evidence from a U.S. early warning airhorne surveillance (AWACS) plane.

The Herald quoted a congressman investigating the trgedy as saying that minutes before the May 17 attack which killed 37 sailors aboard the frigate, the Stark's tactical action officer twice dismissed suggestions from another officer that he warn the jet it was approaching a U.S.

The Herald also reported that nearby U.S. ships told the Stark that the Iraqi plane was down on gressman Larry Hopkins, a Kentucky Republican, as saying that a petty officer in the Stark's monitoring the ship's radar, expressed concern over the jet's intentions when it was within 43 petty officer asked: 'Should we warn this plane?" He was told 'no' hy the tactical action officer," Mr. Hopkins told the Herald in

Mr. Hopkins said that when Pentagon records showed that six minutes before the Stark issued the jet was 40 miles away, the petty officer again asked whether

House Armed Services Committee investigating the incident, said Stark Captain Glenn Brindel er were the senior officers present in the comhat centre as the plane

a interview. its two warnings to the plane, two he should warn the pilot and was

The newspaper quoted Concomhat Information Centre

Mr. Hopkins, a member of the and the ship's tactical action officapproached, according to the

"At about 43 miles out, the again told no.

Mr. Hopkins said be learned of the exchanges from one of his aides, who recently returned from the Gulf where the aide interviewed the Stark's tactical action officer and other crew members.

A formal navy board of inquiry is investigating the actions of the Stark's captain, tactical action officer and two other officers, the Herald said.

According to U.S. and Iraqi data made available by the Pentagon, the ship's crew did nothing to deter the attack as the plane continued its course toward the Stark for more than 20 miles, the Herald reported.

The Stark issued two warnings 37 seconds apart to the Iraqi jet, according to the Herald. But the newspaper reported that evidence from a U.S. Air Force AWACS plane over the is that the tradi war plane had fired its Exocet missiles its intentions ... They were not and turned home more than a responded to by the Iraqi plane, minute earlier. The Starks' warnings came at after that."

the same time the missiles' internal radar switched on in flight. enabling the ship to detect them, the Herald said The first missile struck the ship 28 seconds after the second warning and the second missile struck 25 seconds later, the Herald said. The Iraqi pilot did not respond to the warnings, according to the newspaper. Iraqi military officials told Pentagon investigators that their pilot heard nothing despite the fact that he was monitoring the radio warning frequency, the Herald reported. The Pentagon said the AWACS received both warnings. the newspaper said.

The Herald said the new information contradicts parts of earlier official U.S. accounts of the incident.

On May 19, Defence Secretary Caspar Weinberger said: "The and the attack came immediately

WASHINGTON (AP) - This owned by himself and Gen. Secord.

week in the Iran-contra hearings, the cloak of patriotism embraced by some of the key players in the Iran-contra affair was unravelled to reveal hidden pockets.

Though plenty of mystery remains along the money trail, investigators from the House of Representatives and Senate produced mounting evidence that the secret sale of taxpayer-owned arms to Iran produced private

The revelations included: - Retired Air Force Gen. Richard Secord, who earlier testified to the House-Senate committees that he had forsworn personal gain in the "enterprise," used some of the funds to buy a Porsche sports car and an airplane, according to his Iranian-born partner, Albert Hakim. — Mr. Hakim, the operation's banker, also described several schemes designed to benefit Lt.-Col Oliver North, the White bo recruited himself and Gen. Secord. Though some of these were not implemented, Mr. Hakim said, a $200.000 Swiss bank account was set up as a "death benefit" for Col. North's family, and the former National Security Council aide stood to gain control of a $2 million fund should Gen. Secord and Mr. Hakim die.

- Mr. Haikm said $8.07 miltion in arms profits remains in accounts in London and Switzerland. He said there was an agreement calling for himself, Gen. Secord and former CIA agent Thomas Clines to each take 30 per cent shares, with the other 10

Mr. Hakim a private U.S. citizen who did not have a security clearance, also told of participating in the secret negotiations between American officials and the Iranian government, Among other things, he said the U.S. team told the Iranians that the United States would try to depose the president of Iraq and would fight alongside Iran if the Soviet Union attempted to invade.

North and the U.S. team, he said, was to gain the release of American bostages "to support the president ... or the Republicans (Ronald Reagan's party)" before the 1986 elections. Meanwhile, the committees postponed until mid-July their plans to compel Col. North to testify under a grant of limited immunity, thereby giving independent counsel Lawrence E. Walsh more time to prepare a possible criminal case

Mr. Hakim's testimony contra-dicted that of Gen. Secord's on several fronts, virtually ensuring that Gen. Secord will be recalled by the panels. Senator Paul Trible said that despite Gen. Secord's claim that he renounced any profit, "the evidence shows that nearly $350,000 was transferred to Secord's benefit," including money to buy a Porsche, a Piper Senaca airplane and $2,300 for a trip to a "fat farm (weight reduction centre)."

Both Gen. Secord and Mr. Hakim refused to waive their claim to the millions remaining in the overseas accounts.

day that he made no money from the Iran arms sales and said he was eager to reappear before the Iran-contra investigating commit-tees to tell his side of the story, the New York Times reported in

"I don't see how they can call me a profiteer," he told the Times in an interview, "I'm not a profiteer and to keep on claiming that is simply false. We were trying to do a job for the president, and we did the best we Part of the objective of Col.

its Sunday editions.

The week began with admissions by Assistant Secretary of State Elliott Abrams, the administration's "point man" on Nicaragua, that he had misled Congress on several occasions about efforts to resupply the contras at a time when Congress had hanned direct U.S. military main on the job, despite claims he could no longer be an effective spokesman for the administration's Central America policy. The chairman of the special-

Senate panel on the Iran-contra with ties to Israeli intelligence. affair, Daniel Inouye, said Mr. Hakim's testimony amounted to a "sad two days .. I just hope the people of the United States realise that."

Vice Chairman Warren Rudman, noting the patriotic tones sounded by Gen. Second and others, declared: "I always resent This accusation would clearly the flag while spitting on the Self-styled patriots reveal hidden pockets in Iran scandal On Monday, the House-Senate Panels will hear from Bretton Sciaroni, the government lawyer who wrote the legal opinions which Col. North has cited as authorising his activities. Then it will call Fawn Hall, North's former secretary, who reportedly has told investigators she helped

Col. North destroy documents in the case. Meanwhile the Jerusalem Post reported Friday that the main Iranian intermediary involved in the ill-fated U.S. arms initiative toward Iran was described as a former Iranian intelligence official under the shah who was later

"recruited" hy Israel. In sworn testimony before the ioint House-Senate panel Mr. Hakim said that Manucher Ghorbanifar was 'a former Savak agent recruited by Israel." Mr. Hakim's statement - il But Mr. Abrams, who perso-shown to be true — could poten-nally solicited $10 million from tially represent a major embarthe nation of Brunei for the pri- rassment for Israel. In the early te effort, vowed be would re- stages of the affair. Israeli officials repeatedly vouched for the by Democratic congressmen that reliability and credibility of Ghorbanifar as someone with good contacts to the revolutionary leadership in Tehran. Ghorbani-far was not presented as someone Over the past several months, there have been some suspicions expressed privately by some U.S. investigators that Israel may have "set up" the U.S. to get involved in the entire arms initiative to-people who wrap themselves in be strengthened if Ghorbanifar was indeed working for Israel during this period.

NIGHT DUTY

787336

dor in Washington after months man said after the weekly cabinet of political wrangling over the

Israeli cabinet names new cahinet Sunday appointed career diplomat Moshe Arad ambassaprestigious post, said a spokesman for Prime Minister Yitzhak The United States must

JORDAN TELEVISION

Tel: 773111-19

15:30 Koran 15:59 Programme Review 15:55 Cartoons and children's programme

17:05 World of Strange Powers

TEL AVIV (R) - Israel's

PROGRAMME ONE

ambassador to Washington approve the appointment of the 53-year-old diplomat before he can assume the job, the spokes-> meeting.

> Arad's last post was ambassa dor to Mexico. He was an embassy information officer in Washington after the 1973 war.

Afghan prime minister ends visit to Baghdad

Sultan Ali Kishtmand which en-

BAGHDAD (R) - Afghanistan Mr. Kishtmand also had talks and Iraq strengthened economic with Iraqi President Saddam Hus-and cultural ties in a four-day visit sein and First Deputy Prime to Baghdad by Prime Minister Minister Taha Yassin Ramadan.

The Gulf war and other regionded Sunday.

The two sides signed an agreement on trade, scientific, technic mon adversary in Iran's Islamic al and cultural cooperation and revolutionary government ages, plus a small planetarium at the Haya Arts Centre. Open all week 9:00 per cent going to a company Gen. Secord reiterated Satur-FOR THE TRAVELLER

OUEEN ALIA

ARRIVALS ROYAL JORDANIAN FLIGHTS (Terminal 1)

18:30 Cairo (RI)
...... Vienna, New York (RI) Athens (Rf)

OTHER FLIGHTS (Terminal 2)

...... Cairo (RJ) Kuwait (RJ) haptest School in Sazzensam, Tel. 67/534, Evangelical Lutheran Church, Am-man, Arabic Service: Sunday 7:00 p.m. Rainbow Compregation, English Ser-vice: Saturday 6:30 p.m. Rev. N. Smir. Tel. 811295.

OTHER FLIGHTS (Terminal 2)

...... Cairo, London (BA)

MONEY EXCHANGE

Sunday rates Local sell/buy rates in fils Belgian franc 89.7/ 90.8
Dutch guilder 165.5/ 166.7
French franc 55.5/ 56.1
halian lira 25.7/ 26.1 Japanese yen (for 100) 234.7/ 237.2 Swedish crown 53.4/ 53.9
 Japanese yen (10r 100)
 234.7l
 231.2l

 Swedish crown
 53.4l
 53.9l

 Swiss franc
 223.9l
 225.9l

 U.K. sterling pound
 550.1l
 555.9l

 U.S. dollar
 338.1l
 340.6l

 W. German mark
 185.8l
 187.7l

PRAYER TIMES

05:26 WEATHER

Bulletin supplied by the Department of Meteorology.

A slight decrease in temperature is capected with northwesterly moderate winds. In Aqaba, winds will be northerly moderate and calm sea.

USEFUL TELEPHONE NOS. EMERGENCIES GENERAL

Hussein Medical Centre 813813/32 Khalidi Maternity, J. Anna ... 64281/6 Akileh Maternity, J. Anna ... 64241/2 Jabal Amman Maternity 642362 Malbas, J. Amman

 Jabal Amman Mafernity
 642362

 Malhas, J. Amman
 636140

 Palestine, Shmeisani
 6641714

 Shmeisani Hospital
 669131

 University Hospital
 845845

 Al-Muasher Hospital
 6672273

 The Islamic, Abdali
 66612773

 Al-Ahli, Abdali
 664164/6

 Italian, Al-Muhajreen
 777101/3

 Al-Besthr, J. Astrafieh
 775111/26

 Army, Marka
 891811/15

 Queen Alia Hospital
 607240750

 Amal Hospital
 674155

Khaled taxi ...

Dr. Abdul Rahizs Mabarka 244557

MARKET PRICES

Upper/lower price in fi	s per ku.	Mallow	120 / 80
Apple (Lebenese & Turkish	100 / 240	Macrow
Apple	391 300	Onion (dry)	120 / 20
Sanana		Orange (local)
		Change (grow)
anena (Makeumar)	- 180 Last	Peaches	200 / 224
Scans (local)	2507200	Péachet	800 / 700
abbage	-100 / 20	Pepper (hot)	220 / 168
arrot	150 / 100	Popper (sweet)
	.140 / 300	Potato
ucumbers	1707 120	Record	1207.50
		The state of the s	400 / 40
ggolant (large)		Tometoes	WAY 60
ggriant (small)	. 150 / 100	Torito	100 (70
iaric (green)	. 350 / 300	Viat letter	120 / 260
Tarlie 2	350 / 300	Watermeton	1207 100
iarlic (dry)		TT DECEMBER 120 Management	and the same of th
CHOR HINTERSTON	170/120	Streetingon	100 J- 120'

87:0
97:3
68:0	0 Morning Show
10:6	A News Summary
10:0
11:0
12:0
12:0
13:0
13:6
14:0
14:3
15:0
16:0
16:6
16:3	0 Old Favourites
17:0
17:3
18:0	0 News Summary
18:0	5 Sports Roundup
18:3
19:0
19:3
	Constant Character Character
20:0	6 Evening Show
21:0	0 News Summary
21:0	5 Evening Show Contd.

Arabic play Local debate Science and Life (Arabic) 19:40 Message from Oman 20:60 News in Arabic

21:00 Arabic Series
21:50 Cultural panel discussion
22:40 Arab Scholars
23:00 News Summary in Arabic
23:10 Arab Scholars continued PROGRAMME TWO 18:00 Marie pervenche (French comcdy) News in French | 19:15 | News in French |
19:15	Sport magazine (French
19:30	News in Hebrew
19:45	Magazine Zero One
20:00	News in Arabic
20:30	Three Up, Two Down
21:10	Magnum
22:00	News in English
23:00	News in English
24:00	News in English
25:00	News in English
25:00	News in English
26:00	News in English
26:00	News in English
27:00	News in English
27:00	News in English
28:00	News in English
29:00	News in English
29:00	News in English
20:00	News in English

RADIO JORDAN 855 KHz. AM & 99 MHz. FM & partly on 9560 KHz., SW Tel: 774111-19

	16: 774111-15
87:00	Light Music
07:30	Light Music Newsdesk
68:00	Morning Show
10:00	News Summary
10:05	Just a Minute
11:00	Just a Minute Follow the Wind
12:00	News Summary
12:05	30-Minute Theatre
13:00	News Summary
13:05
14:00	News Zulletin
14:30	Just a Minute
15:00	Concert Hour
16:00	News Summary
16:05	lustrumentais
16:30	Old Favourites
17:00	Men from the Ministry
17-38	Pop Session
18:00	News Summary
18:05	Sports Roundup
18:30	Music
19:00	News Desk
19:30	Date with a Star
20:00	Coordea Chara
	Evening Show
21:00	News Summary
21:05	Evening Show Contd.
22:00	News Summary
22:65	Evening Show Continued

TV & RADIO

BBC WORLD SERVICE

639, 730, 1323 KHz

67:00 Newsdesk 67:30 Madame Bovary

97:40 Newsdesk 97:30 Patagazie Bovary 97:45 Reflections 97:50 Waveguide 88:80 World News 98:39 24 Hours: News Summary 88:30 Nature Note-book 08:48 Recording of the Week 19:00 Newsdesk 69:30 Former Flash-89:00 Newsdesk 69:30 Former Flashpoints 10:00 World News 10:09 24 Hours: News Summary 10:30 The Waiting Room 11:00 World News
11:09 Reflections 11:15 Madause Bovary 12:00 World News 12:09 British Press Review 12:15 Good Books 12:30
Financial News; Look Ahead 12:45
Peebles Choice 13:00 News Summary;
The Father of Polish Comedy 13:30
The Vintage Chart Show 14:00 World
News 14:09 News About Britain 14:15
Sportsworld 14:30 Abrum Time 15:40
Radio Newsreel 15:15 Brain of Britain
15:45 Sports Round-up 16:00 World
News 16:09 24 Hours: News Summary
16:30 Recording of the Week 16:45
Sportsworld 17:40 News Summary
16:30 Recording of The Adventure of the Bruce-Partington Plans 18:00 Radio Outlook 17:45 The Adventure of the Bruce-Partington Plans 18:40 Radio Newsreel 18:15 The Father of Polish Comedy 18:45 Gershwini Among Friends 19:00 World News 19:09 Commentary 19:15 Uncrowned Kings 19:30 Beecham's Lollipop 20:15 The History of Radio Comedy 20:30 New Ideas 20:40 Book Choice 20:15 The History of Radio Comedy 20:50 Sports Roundup 21:00 Newsdesk 22:39 Stock Market Report 00:15 Acetham's Lollipop 00:30 Vintage Chart Show 01:30 Financial News 02:15 The Racing Game 02:30 Financial News

VOICE OF AMERICA

MW 1260 & SW 7200, 9565, 11740, 11925 and 15210 Hz 05:00 News 05:10 Newsline 05:30 VOA 05:00 News 05:10 Newsline 05:30 VOA Morning 06:00 News 06:10 Newsline 06:30 VOA Morning 07:90 News 07:10 Newsline 07:30 VOA Morning 08:00 News 08:10 Newsline 08:30 VOA Morning 17:50 News 17:10 Newsline 17:30 Music USA 18:00 News 18:10 Focus 18:30 Special English News & Features 19:00 News 19:10 Newsline 19:30 Matazine Show 20:00 News 19:30 News 19:10 Newsine 19:30 Magazine Show 20:00 News 20:10 Focus 20:30 Special Engish News & Features 21:30 News 21:10 Newstine America 21:30 Music USA 22:00 News & Editorial 22:15 Music USA Jazz 23:00 News 23:10 World

WHAT'S GOING ON

EXHIBITIONS

An art exhibition by Ibrahim Arar at the Jordan Intercontinental Hotel (un-til June 11).

An exhibition of photos at the UNESCO's regional office in Amman on the occasion of the International Year of Shelter for the Homeless (until CINEMA * Prenom Carmen" at 8:00 p.m. at the French Cultural Centre.

An art exhibition by Lebanese artist Jan Turk at the Petra Bank Gallery — Wadi Saqra.

FEATURE FILM * "A Chorus Line" at 7:00 p.m. at the American Centre.

SYMPOSIUM The Armenian Centre is participating with the Royal Automobile Club, the U.S. Agency for International De-velopment, and other Jordanian and international institutions in a conference on Modern Trends in Traffic and Transport at the Royal Cultural Centre (until June 11). CULTURAL CENTRES

Royal Cultural Centre .. Tel. 661026/7 American Centre 644371
American Centre library 641520
British Council 636147/8
French Cultural Centre 637009 French Cultural Centre 03/02/
Goethe Institute 641993
Soviet Cultural Centre 644203
Spanish Cultural Centre 624049
Turkish Cultural Centre 639777

MUSEUMS

"Children's Heritage and Science Museum" Fun and knowledge for all

TODAY'S EVENTS

Haya Arts Centre. Open all week 9:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. - 6:00 p.m. Closed on Friday. Folklore Maneum: Jewelry and costumes over 100 years old. Also mosaics from Madaba and Jerash (4th to 18th centuries). The Roman Theatre, Amman. Opening hours: 9:00 a.m. -5 p.m. Year-round. Tel. 651760.

Jordan Archaeological Maneum: Has an excellent collection of the autiquities of Jordan. Jabal AJ Qal'a (Citadel Hill). Opening hours: 9:00 a.m. -5:00 p.m. (Fridays and official holidays 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.). Closed Tuesdays. SERVICE CLUBS

Lions Annuan Clab, Meetings every first and third Wednesday at the Holimrs and third wednesday at the Hon-day lin, 1:30 p.m.

Lious Philiadelphia Club. Meetings ev-ery second and fourth Wednesday at the Ammon Hotel, 7:30 p.m.

Philiadelphia Rotary Club. Meetings every Wednesday at the Holiday Inn, 1:30 p.m.

Rotary Club. Meetings every Tuesday at the Intercontinental Hotel, 2.00 p.m.

p.m. Royal Automobile Club. Jabal Am-man, Eighth Circle. Tel. 816534, 817534. CHURCHES St. Joseph Church (Roman Catholic) Jabai Amman, Tel. 624590.
Church of the Amunication (Roman Catholic) Jabai Luweibdeb, Tel.
637440.
De la Salle Church (Roman Catholic)
Jabai Hussein, Tel. 661757.
Terrasanta Church (Roman Catholic),
Jabai Luweibdeb, mass in Italian language, meet every Saturday at 5-30.

dan Catholic Church Ashrafieh, Tel. 771331. Tel. 771331.

Armenian Orthodox Church Ashrafieh, Tel. 775261.

St. Ephraim Church (Syrian Orthodox) Ashrafieh, Tel. 771751.

Atman International Church (Interdenominational): meets at Southern Baptist School in Shoneisani, Tel.
67534

AIRPORT

This information is supplied by Royal Jordanian (RI) information department at the Queen Alia International Airport Tel. (08) 53200-5, where it should always be verified.

Bucharest RJ.
Bangkok (RJ)
Baghdad (RJ)

Jaulai Luweisoco, mass in Italian language, meet every Saturday at 5:30 p.m. Tel: 622366 Church of the Amanuciation (Greek Orthodox) Abdali, Tel. 623541.
Anglicum Church (Church of the Redeemer) Jabal Amman, Tel. 625383.

INTERNATIONAL

Sana's (LH)
Cairo (MS)
Abu Dhabi, Bahrain (GF)
Kuwait (KU)
Istanbul, Ankara (TK)
Baghdad (IA)
Beirut (ME)
Baghdad (AF)

DEPARTURES ROYAL JORDANIAN FLIGHTS (Terminal 1) Aqaba (RI)
Amsterdam, New York (RI)
Bucharest (RI)
Paris (RI)
Athens (RI) Frankfurt, Copenhagen (RJ)

Min/max. temp. 15/3t

Yesterday's high temperatures: Amman 33, Aqaba 34, Humidity readings: Amman 12 per cent, Aqaba 24 per

Al Salara Pharm Touch Pharmacy

Overseas calls Repair service

First Pharmacy
Financy
Financy
Financy
Financy
Khalaf pharmacy
Al Fernows pharmacy
Saheb pharmacy HOSPITALS

Besman tari
Me'ad tari
Al Salah tari
Siyaha tari Kurdi tari

moderate	Apple
be north-	Ranana (1907) 170 (1907)
	- Banana (Mukananar)
į.	Beans (local)250 / 200 Peaches800 / 700
ax. temp.	Caposas minimum - 1811/2 Al Proposition management ZAI/ Horza
15/31	Carrot
_ 18/33	Cambillower - 140 / 100 / Peests / 4/ / - 200 / 300 / 350 / -
15/33	Cucumbers 170 170 Raddish 1707 30 W
. 17/33	Eggolant (large) 120 / 160 Tomatous January 100 / 60
1	Establish (small) 150 / 100 Torrito
res: Am-	Garlic (green) 350 / 300 Vige Jennes 300 / 200
tesquites:	Garlie (dry) 3507 300 Waterbarlon
na 24 per	Lemon
 J
	The state of the s
	The state of the s
	the state of the s

Building contractors look abroad to ease cramped home markets

AMMAN (R) — Building contractors in Jordan, cramped by a rapidly dwindling market at home, have set their sights on construction projects in the wider Arah market ahroad.

"We should start facing the situation now," said Ali Abn Al Ragheb, president of the newly-formed Jurdan Chatracturs'

"Until 1982, we all had enough work and didn't bother much about the competition. But it became a problem as recession and unemplnyment began tn bite," he told Reuters.

Construction activity in Jordan dropped by 27.4 per cent last year from a peak of 3.1 million square metres of site development in 1982, according to Central Bank

d ber

H in Store

ward J L State Department Transfer saving to every a contradion olicy but the ne Staunch code

nsici conceder

interview h

that even it

al. some no

ud they would isticated and r

the House-for lear from the government in the legal open worth has one is activities of the second contraction.

is activities. The

r Hall, North:

who report

digators the la

stroy document

the Jerusalen!

day that the c

mediary invoke

U.S. arms in

was described:

an incelligent

: sbab who wat

estimony beion:

-Serute panel i ha: Manucher (k

ed by Israel"

75 Statement - tree — could be ent a major and

Israei. le thez affair, brza 🗀

dly vouched in!

उं टार्स्डिनिसेए वंदि

ANTICORE WILL

: Tehran Ghot

resented as such srieli inelije

past several act

een some suge

ivately by some.

that is reduced to e arms means

n erder w period.

04 - TE

Trains .

THE DUTE

hu Asquer - Si 10 Asquer - Si 10 Asquer 11 Asquer 12 Asquer 13 Asquer

"a former Se

ov israel.

Arah countries spent some $250 billion on construction projects in the oil boom years of 1972-83 a level which, says the

AMMAN (Petra) — A group of journalists from the Umted Nations will arrive here today on a four day visit in the course of a Middle Eastern tour to have a close hand look at the situation in the region and to investigate facts

During the visit, the group which represents 13 different countries will meet with senior government officials and editors of local newspapers.

about the Palestine problem.

Journalists tour region

NEWS IN BRIEF

AMMAN (J.T.) — The Italian Ambassador in Amman and Mrs.

Amaduzzi held a reception Sunday, June 7, 1987, on the occasion of Italy's National Day. The reception was attended by key public figures, foreign ambassadors, ministers, journalists and a large audience of invited guests.

AMMAN (Petra) — The registration of pilgrims to Mecca in the coming season began in various areas of Jordan Sunday. A spokesman for the Ministry of Awquf and Islamic Affairs said that the registration is taking place in offices of companies entrusted by the ministry to take care of transporting pilgrims to and from the holy places in Saudi Arabia and putting them up at different sites there. The registration process ends by June 20.

Registration of pilgrims begins

Ambassador marks Italy's National Day

under U.N. auspices

Ali Abu Al Ragheb

Ahu Dhabi-based Arab Monetary Fund, dropped drastically with the decline in oil revenues. The fund forecasts spending on construction projects in the Arab states of about $35 to 43 billion by the year 1990 - well

Their programme also includes visits to the Baqa'a Palestinian refugee camp and the King Hus-

sem bridge across the River

The journalists are accompanied hy officials from the United Nations public relations and in-

The group which will be coming from Egypt will later visit Iraq.

formation offices.

below the $46 billion spent in 1984.

But experts here say this would still after lucrative apportunities for those companies ready to take up the challenge.

Jordan has more than 400 firms nperating in a crowded and depressed construction sector, emplnying about 50,000 people — some 17 per cent if the country's workfnræ.

Most of them are one-man firms which mushroomed during the boom years, and Mr. Al Ragheh says their best chance now is to hroaden their base in amaleamatinn. The hest way would he through mergers, creating institu-tionalised companies, financially and technically strong, that can also compete ahroad, especially in the Arah World."

He says the government is considering incentives to encourage such a trend.

AMMAN (J.T.) — North Yemen has expressed desire to cooperate

North Yemen's Minister of Communications and Transport Ahmad Al Unsi said that Jordan has made good progress in the communications field, and his country was willing to benefit

The minister, who was speaking at a meeting with his Jordanian counterpart, Muhieddine Al Husseini, said that His Majesty King Hussem's visit to North Yemen had contributed to the development of relations between the two countries, and paved the way for fruitful coop-

For his part, Mr. Husseini ex-

At the meeting, Ministry of Communications Under Secretary Mansour Ibo Tarif and Director of the Telecommunications Corporation (TCC) Mr. Moham--mad Shahid Ismail, who were present at the meeting, spoke about the postal services in Jordan and the TCC's programmes and projects provided for within the Ministry of Communication's

N. Yemen seeks to cooperate in communications with Jordan and benefit from its experience and expertise in communications-related fields.

from such experience.

pressed Jordan's readiness to cooperate with North Yemen in communications and postal five-year national plan.

Settlers rampage through West Bank camp

(Continued from page 1) said. "Why did they attack my

The army beefed up its patrols around and inside the refugee camp on Sunday. Soldiers were seen walking along the main road outside and through the winding narrow streets of the camp.

salion would be Some right-wing leaders were ened if Glocke quick to defend the settlers' acworking in thous. Legislator Yuval Neeman of the Tehiya Party called oo israel to annex the occupied territories as a way to put an end to Arab protests. The Arabs should know that we have no intention of leaving the area," Mr. Neeman said on Israel Army

> Also Sunday, Israeli soldiers used teargas and rubber bullets to break up a demonstration by about 1,500 students at the Islamic University in the occupied Gaza Strip, school officials said. The

The army command reported it closed Abu Dis Vocational College near Bethlehem until June following an anti-Israeli demonstratioo in which stones were hurled at an army patrol

Four Palestinians were wounded in Israeli gunfire oo Saturday.
Two Palestinians who broke through an army roadblock in the village of Kabatiyah, ocar the town of Jenin, were wounded by flying glass and metal when troops shot at their vehicle, re-

Kabatiyah was uoder curfew following a petrol bomb attack on an Israeli vehicle in the area.

At Abu Dis College, two Palestinian students were injured fishing boat goes astray or makes when troops opened fire to disstudents hurled stones, raised perse protesters who threw stones are always under close surveill-Palestinian flags and shouted at them, he said.

"Jerusalem is for us, not the Jews," Abdul Halim Ashqar, a military authorities had banned university spokesman, told AP. all fishing from the occupied Relief officials said Israeli all fishiog from the occupied Gaza Strip for the last three weeks following the escape of six Palestinians from a jail in Gaza

> They said the ban, imposed in the middle of the sardine season, had crippled the Gaza fishing industry, which an estimated 50,000 people depend on for sub-

An official of an international relief agency said the fishing ban was a collective economic punishment with no real security

The real reason is to punish the local population and try to pressure people into denouncing their neighbours," be said. "The Israeli navy is quite capable of ensuring that no Gaza arrived here Sunday for a four-day visit to Jordan during which they will hold talks with Jordanian government officials. The ion, headed hy Sri Lanka's permanent envoy to the U.N., Mr. Pereira, will meet with a number of Arab citizens from the occupied Arab territories. The mission, grouping representatives from Senegal and Yugoslavia, has been sent by the U.N. General Assembly to the Middle East to investigate charges of Israel's arbitrary measures and practices against Arah citizens in the occupied territories. The U.N. mission was received upon arrival hy Under Secretary of the Ministry of Occupied Territories Affairs Dr. Ahmad Qatanani and senior officials (Petra photo).

Jordan, Egypt and Iraq to discuss joint company

AMMAN (Petra) - The minisoperate a land-sea route linking company's general assembly. the three countries through the port city of Aqaba.

Secretary Mu'tazz Al Bilbeisi said that the meeting will be devoted the project into being and the commencement of actual work.

The projected company will erations, carrying passengers and goods from Nuweibeh in Sinai to qaha in Jordan and vice versa, thus linking the Arab orient with the Northern Africao Arab states, Mr. Bilbeisi said,

The company, he said, will have its own vessels, but in case they require more they cao hire vessels owned by any of the three

Each of the participating countries, he said, will facilitate the work of this company which will have its headquarters in Amman with offices in Egypt and Iraq. The company's lease will be for 50 years starting from the moment the documents for the establishment of the company are endorsed by the respective governments, Mr. Bilbeisi pointed to discuss

cational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation's (UNESCO) regional office will open a six-day meeting in Amman on June 22 to discuss cultural and educational issues of concern to the Arah World and to assess technical education in Arab countries since

The meeting, to be attended by senior officials at the under

According to Mr. Bilbeisi, the ters of transport of Egypt, Jordan company's capital will initially be and Iraq are meeting in Amman $7 million with each country acon June 13 to discuss organisa- quiring an equal share, but this tional matters for the establish- capital is subject to increase in ment of the Arab Maritime the light of decisions, resolutions Bridge Company (AMBC) to and recommendations by the

At present, Egypt and Jordan have their own national shipping Transport Ministry Under lines, operating between Aqaba ecretary Mu'tazz Al Bilbeisi said and Nuweibeh. But once the tripartite company has been set up, to steps to be taken for bringing a new joint company will come to light, Mr. Bilbeisi added.

Since the inauguration of the Nuweibeh-Aqaha land-sea route undertake maritime transport op- in April 1985, a total of one million passengers have crossed between the two ports and more than 39,600 vehicles have been ferried between the two sides, Mr. Bilbeisi added.

The ministers of transport of the three countries had met in Amman in 1985 and reached teotative agreement on establishing the joint company. All three governments have officially endorsed the idea.

Jewellers group elects new board

AMMAN (J.T.) - The General Association of Owners of Goldsmiths Stores and Jewellery Workshops in Jordan Sunday elected a oew nine member board

Ghaleb Sakkijha who told the Jordan Times that the election of association assembly meeting held at the Amman Plaza Hotel agement.

A total of 13 candidates ran for Sakkijha said.

board members as follows: Ghaleh Sakkijha, Thafer Al Sukhun, Akram Msheih, Anwar Jabasini, Zaki Abu Lughnd, Anton Lutfi for Amman Abdullah Al Huwwani and Adel Khouri from Irbid and Fawzi Es'ifan from Zarqa.

Irbid completes JD 1.25m electrification project

IRBID (Petra) — Deputy Prime Minister Abdul Irbid. Wahhab Al Majali attended a ceremony here marking the end of work on the second stage of a project for improving the electric power network in Irbid.

In a speech nn the occasion. Mr. Majali said that the government is keen nn providing and improving services for the public. Addressing the ceremony was the director general of the Irbid District Electricity Company (IDEC), Abdul Ra'ouf Al Sheikh, who said that the project is designed in improve electric supply in the eastern and southern districts of the city. This second stage complements the first stage that saw improvements to the network in the northern and eastern districts of Irbid in 1982.

According to an IDEC spokesman, the project aims at ensuring a continuous supply nf power to subscribers in all regions, and also feeding districts around

According in the spokesman, the project which took 16 munths tn complete, cost JD 1.25 millinn. It comprises a main transformer station, ground cahles, and dis-

The ceremnny was attended by Irbid's maynr and governor and other local officials. Before the ceremnny. Mr. Majali called at Irhid's governor's house and was hriefed on the governorate's projects. He also called at the headquarters of the IDEC to discuss

Road safety to top agenda for int'l transportation symposium

By Najwa Najaar Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN — Increasing the safety of drivers and passengers in Inroan with effective management of traffic and transport was a main concern of the participants of the first international symposium on modern trends in traffic and transport which opened on Sunday at the Royal Cultural

In an inaugural address, the patron of the four day seminar, Lieutenant Geoeral Abdul Hadi Al Majali said, "traffic safety is nne of our major problems." Traffic and transport need a comprehensive plan, Lt.-Gen, Majali said, adding that Jordan has given traffic enforcement courses and is looking for new ways to improve

The subject of traffic accidents

of deaths which result from road accidents in Jordan.

According to Ms. Barhara Good, cultural attache at the American Centre, who also spoke at the opening session: Sixteen deaths occur in every 10,000 accidents in Jordan, compared to the U.S. which rates under 10 deaths for every 10,000 accidents.

A recent desert highway accident, in which a head on collision of a bus carrying 54 passengers with a truck, left five people dead and 23 injured, has drawn further attentinn to the problem Jordan faces.

The main objective of the symposium is to increase transportation safety with efficiency through interdisciplinary approaches. Senior level execu-is top nn the agenda nf the tives, educators, enforcement conference, due to the high rate officials, traffic and transport engineers, planners, policy makers and researchers will examine the potential for improving existing transport systems and the development of new systems. Specific attention will be directed to the social, psychologically, legal and medical aspects of road safety and the need for better enforcement of traffic regulations.

The participants, who include representatives from the U.S., United Kingdom, Sweden, United Nations, the Organisation of Arab Cities and other representatives from the Arab World, will discuss the fullowing symposium topics during the working sessions: challenges to transport system management; trade and freight transport; planning methodologies; traffic and transport modelling; the evaluation of educational programmes; driver training programmes; urban plan-ning and enforcement; policing and road user behaviour; publicity and mass media campaigns; emergency aids to accident victims; data collection and analysis; social psychology of the road user; road design vs driver behaviour: informatioo technology and vehicle design; enforcement techniques vs drive behaviour; urban transport policies; technological innovations and transport; and traosportatioo aod

The organisers have also arranged for the showing of films, panel discussions and field visits. They include the American Centre, British Couocil, the Royal Automobile Club of Jordao (RACJ), Public Security Department (PSD), Jordan Roads Soci-Jordan University of Science and Technology, Jordan Society for the Preventioo of Road Accidents, U.S. Agency for Interna-tional Aid (USAID), Alpha Centre, United Nations Centre for Human Settlements (UNCHS) energy conservation.

er, chief of the Problem Behaviour and Research Division of the U.S. Department of Trans-portation, will address the symposium via a live satellite link between the U.S. and Jordan. arranged by the American Centre in Amman. Dr. Snyder will discuss the latest research nn road user behaviour being carried ont in the U.S. with a panel of Jordanian representative. Also speaking at the opening session were Mr. Walid Asfour of Reade of USAID. They gave short descriptions of how their the development of the Kingdom, education

AMMAN (Petra) — The Amman-based United Nations Eduthe early 1970s.

secretary level, will discuss steps taken by regional states in im-plementing the 1977 UNESCO

UNESCO

resolutions issued at Abu Dhabi in the Gulf. The meeting will also review prospects of improving education systems, including technical education, in the Arab to serve for two years. The board chairman is Mr.

the board took place at a geoeral following a luncheon hosted in their honour by the hotel man-the election of whom 10 represented Amman area, two Irbid area and one Zarqa area, Mr. He said that six out of the 10 members running for Amman were elected along with the two candidates from Irbid and nne from Zarga. He gave the names of the Air France to begin direct flights to Paris By Salameh B. Ne'matt According to Mr. Guigonnet, Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN — France's oational carrier, Air France, has launched its first noo-stop weekly flight to Paris, the airline's officials announced Sunday. The direct link, aimed at supplementing two other flights that make one-hour transit stops in Damascus, is designed to make Air France more competitive as well as encourage French tourists to visit Jordan. Mr. Jean Guigonnet, the air-lice's general manager for Jordan, Lebanoo and Syria, said that the new flight, which departs on Tuesdays, was aimed at "passengers who may not like to stop io Damascus." It is also the only commercial flight from Amman into Europe on Tuesday. Mr. Guigonnet said the oew service was one of a number of recently taken steps towards improving the airline's performance and becoming more competitive in an increasingly shrinking market. The other measures included the introduction of a new first class service (premiere), in addition to the "le club" and economy classes. He said that Air France's competition comes more from national rather than international airlines and that competition was mostly in prices.'

The new link was introduced in accordance with an agreement signed with Royal Jordanian (RJ) and the approval of the civil aviation authority. RJ also has three Paris flights a week.

"The agreement (with RJ) stipulates that each airline established three Amman-Paris flights a week," Mr. Guigonnet said. "Royal Jordanian are our partthe direct flight was also aimed at encouraging tourism to Jordan. Air France manager for Jor-dan, Gilbert Muller, said there was a great potential for eocouraging tourism to Jordan. he said a total of 11,242 Freoch nationals visited Jordan last year and that the oumber could double in the coming years. "There is a potential four to five millioo Freoch travellers out of a total 60 million population," Mr. Muller said. "We could easily get 20,000 of those." According to an Air France press release, the tlight pattern was planned specifically "to support tour operators in organising extended weekends for incentive trips, full week packaging for tourist groups and multi-country tours in the area." The airline, along with the Amman Marriott Hotel and International Traders, are co-sponsoring an invitation to 25 top French travel journalists to visit Jordan within a tourism promotion effort. The three establishments will also organise a presentation of Jordan's tourist attractions in Paris, Bordeaux and four other major cities in France. Asked whether the French-

British built Concorde supersonic passenger airplane could operate nn the Paris-Amman route, Mr. Muller said "it would be very difficult as it has to fly over the sea to go supersonic (because of noise element)," but he added: "Get me 200 Jurdanians who would pay JD 500 for a Paris ticket, and I would get you the Concorde." The airplane can travel at 2,400 kilometres per and PTRC London. On June 11, Dr. Monroe Snyd-

the RACJ, Mr. David Latta of the British Council and Mr. Louis organisations have contributed to and in particular the development of the transportation system.

SPECIAL PRICES ON ORIGINAL MERCEDES — BENZ SPARE PARTS.

Only Mercedes - Benz original parts guarantee proper replacement and are perfectly matched to your Mercedes. They are quality-tested and absolutely identical to the parts installed when the car is first produced. All of this at special prices and only available at Mercedes-Benz general

Quality Leads to Perfection.

General Agents

T. Gargour and fils

Amman-Marka Tel: 892336/892337 "TRUST" Since 1928

safeguarded and peace will he restored.

Sawt Al Shaab: Contradictory move

JORDAN has been warning against moves by Arabs which would help Israel impose its domination on Arah land and perpetuate its occupation of their territory in Jerusalem and the rest of the Palestinian land. Such warnings were aimed at foiling attempts like those made by Hanna Siniora which tend to give support for Israel's plans in the occupied West Bank. Siniora has called on Israel to include Arah citizens in managing Jerusalem municipality. Since Jerusalem is an occupied territory ruled by force by an imposed mayor. Teddy Koleck, then Siniora's proposal can be considered as conflicting with the resolutions of the United Nations which call on now supporting Israel's ideas about a settlement and facitly means condoning Israel's measures in the Holy City, including its Judaisation. Since Jerusalem is holy for the Arabs and Muslims no-ne has the right to suggest any solution except by calling for its restoration to Arah and Islamic rule.

Chairman of the Board of Directors: MAHMOUD AL KAYED

Responsible Editor and Director General: MOHAMMAD AMAD

Editor-in-Chief: GEORGE S. HAWATMEH

Editorial and advertising offices:

Jordan Press Foundation, University Road, P.O. Box 6710, Amman, Jordan.

Telephones: 667171-6, 670141-4 Telex: 21497 ALRAI JO Facsimile: 661242

The Jordan Times is published daily except Fridays. Subscription and advertising rates are available from the Jordan Times advertising department.

Getting it together

A three-pronged effort to end the Gulf war between Iran and Iraq is under way. First, there is now an action by the permanent members of the United Nations Security Council in the form of consultations within the framework of the Security Council with a view to end the war as soon as possible. Second, the foreign ministers of the Gulf Cooperation Council have just ended their two-day meetings in Jeddah with a bid to address effectively the general situation in the Gulf and the almost seven-year-old war between Iran and Iraq. Third, the Venice economic summit is scheduled also to begin its deliberations in Venice today with the issue of free navigation in the Gulf and the Iran-Iraq war expected to figure very high on the agenda.

Whereas the United Nations Security Council's current consultations aim to impose sanctions in the form of an arms ban against the belligerent state which rejects peace initiatives to end the war, the Gulf Cooperation Council's initiative is expected to examine the possibility of forming a Gulf delegation to mediate between the warring countries. The Venice economic summit is scheduled, on the other hand, to address the armed conflict between Iran and Iraq in the light of the deteriorating situation in the Gulf, especially the issue of free and unhindered navigation. The United States is expected to solicit firm and unqualified support for its initiative which aims to send an armada of Western battleships into the Gulf to assure free navigation, hy force if necessary. The other Western countries are likely to stay away from this U.S. initiative and to push instead for international action.

What is needed now is the convergence of all these three approaches in a unified and synthesised manner, which could draw on the positive elements of the three initiatives. There is no doubt that the United Nations Security Council is in the best position to build on the pillars that should be created by the Gulf Cooperation Council's meetings and the Venice economic summit. The Security Council has not only the mandate and jurisdiction to deal effectively with the threat to peace in the Gulf, but also the composition and legitimacy to deal decisively with the Iran-Iraq war.

ARABIC PRESS EDITORIALS

Al Ra'i: Ball in the European court

THE Venice summit of the seven major industrialised nations opens tomorrow. Many observers believe that the participating countries will turn their attention to politics as the most important item on the agenda. In that case the Middle East and the Gulf issues will be among the topics to be discussed by the heads of the seven richest nations on earth. The United States wants to benefit from this meeting by urging the European nations to take part in an American-led force for intervention in the Gulf region, a move Washington hopes will further strengthen its influence and impose its hegemony on the countries of the region. Todate, the United States has not accepted the idea of an international conference on the Middle East and the Venice summit will reveal one of two facets: either the United States will go along with Europe in accepting the idea of such a conference or will persuade Europe to give up its own

The Europeans will also have to choose whether to get involved in the proposed multinational force for the Gulf or keep aloof, and avoid adventures that would be detrimental to their interests. As we can see, the European nations attending the Venice summit are confronted with a real dilemma, but if the European countries stand fast in the face of Washington's pressures, they could be paving the ground for the long-awaited international conference on the Middle East. The Venice summit should not allow adventurers to have their way lest the world will again find itself facing a dangerous situation.

Al Dustour: Summit faces challenge

ALTHOUGH the Venice meeting starting Monday is primarily devoted to discussing economic issues and trade relations among the Western powers, observers believe that this summit will devote most of its time to major political affairs. It looks as if this summit will be similar to that held in Tokyo last year during which the heads of governments devoted their time to discussing terrorism. Perhaps the most important political issue is the ongoing Gulf conflict and the leaders of the seven nations will no doubt weigh all repercussions and reactions for an intervention in the Gulf region. As the Venice summit is being held, representatives of major nations are continuing behind-the-scene contacts at the U.N. Security Council and with the U.N. secretary general to find means for ending the war and imposing sanctions on the party which rejects peace bids. We hope that the Venice summit will come up with a formula, supporting efforts being made at the United Nations. If the world community succeeds in stopping the war the United States will not have to involve itself or its Western allies for that matter in an adventure in the Gulf and the interests of all nations witt be nations to refrain from giving recognition to Israel's annexation.

Siniora's proposal means that he and those who he speaks for are

The chameleon in Israeli politics

By Dr. Waleed Sadi

THERE is no doubt in my mind that the Israeli Likud bloc's rejection of the principle of convening an interoational peace conference on the Middle East under the auspices of the United Nations is just another ploy to preserve the status quo in the occupied territories and to avoid serious negotiations with the Arah parties which could lead to the implementation of Security Council Resolutions 242 and 338. The insistence hy the Likud on direct negotiations with the Arah parties and on the hasis of the Camp David accords format must be viewed against the backdrop of the various Arah summit resolutions which had ruled out negotiations with Israel on the hasis of the Camp David accords and outside the umhrella of the United Nations.

The Likud leadership knows only too well that the Arah parties are firmly and permanently locked in the position of principle dictated by the Arah summits and the Likud's insistence on the impossible is tantamount to assuming a hargaining position which aims for the frustration of all peaceful efforts to resolve the Arab-Israeli conflict on the hasis of U.N. Security Council Resolution 242. Whether negotiations between Israel and the Arah parties are conducted directly or indirectly is not really the issue here because under the concept of a peace conference under United Nations auspices, direct negotiations between the parties are envisaged and accepted. The real issue is whether U.N. Security Council Resolution 242 will be rendered operational in any such negotiations. The way Likud talks about the foundation of the Camp David accords for future negotiations with the remaining Arah parties gives the distinct impression that Israel views the accords as not envisaging the implementation of Resolutions 242 and 338. Upon careful reading of the accords, one readily discovers that not only the Camp David treaty referred to U.N. Security Council Resolution 242 but also incorporated it as well as a cardinal basis for the resolution of the Arab-Israeli conflict. It goes without saying that Resolution 242 incorporated the principle of the unlawful acquisition of territory by force, a guideline which is anthema to Likud thinking. By assuming the posture of wanting only the Camp David accords format as basis for negotiations with the Arah parties on the premise that hy so doing Israel would the Arah parties on the premise that hy so doing Israel would escape the dictates and propositions of Resolution 242, Likud in effect is engaged in questionable diversionary tactics with a view to consolidate their militaristic hold over the occupied territories. I suspect that if the parties were to accept the format suggested to them hy Likud, the hawkish Israeli party would hasten to create obstacles of substance to frustrate negotiations. There is no escape intend to make territorial compromises with the Arahs. Whether the Labour Party in Israel is any different in substance from the Likud Party is a big question. But if the record of Labour is anything to go by in any attempt to answer this big question, then the answer is rendered simpler.

from the conclusion that Likud has not reconciled itself with the terms of Resolutions 242 and 338 and its constituency does not

When Labour enjoyed a stronger mandate from the Israeli electorate and was literally alone in the helm, it was never truly forthcoming on the implementation of Resolutions 242 and 338. Labour had untold number of years to "strike a deal" with the Arabs on the basis of Resolutions 242 and 338 but chose instead to set the circumstances and events in motion which led ultimately to the 1973 war. Why should we now believe that the Labour of the fifties, sixties and early seventies is any different from the Labour of today? The true colour of the Labour Party had shown most hrilliantly during the acrimonious debate which ensued between it and Likud over the projected international peace conference and in which the Labour leadership attempted to out-bid Likud as more of a hardliner in any negotiations with the Arab parties than Likud could ever be. Lest we forget, it was the Labour leadership which cited the Camp David accords as evidence that Likud was "softy" in the negotiations with Egypt and that they had sold ont the "national interests" of Israel very cheaply hy agreeing to total withdrawal

As the political epoch of the principal quartet in Israeli politics come to a close in a sunset of acrimony, the indications point in the direction of Ariel Sharon as the heir apparent to the Likud leadership and as the principal beneficiary of the current standoff between the present Israeli leaderships. Should Sharon in fact ascend to power hy "hook or hy crook", then all of us Arabs and Israelis would become in the midst of a new ball game whose dimensions only God knows.

As we in the Arah World mark the 20th anniversary of the 1967 war, we must assume the posture of a good driver: Look forward most of the time but look behind sometimes. Hopefully with the benefit of hindsight and a futuristic vision, visibility becomes enhanced and our course for the future could assume more effective

U.S. warships keeping close watch on Iranian air activity in Gulf

By Aly Mahmoud The Associated Press

BAHRAIN - American warships in the Gulf are closely saber rattling that "this situation monitoring Iranian air activity as could change quickly." tension mounts in the strategic waterway over superpower intervention to protect merchant ships from attack by Iranian warplanes and gunboats.

"God help any plane, any pilot, regardless of what nation he belongs, and it could be a very friendly nation, if they come in a pattern that may show hostile intent," Sam Zakhem, the U.S. ambassador to Bahrain, told in an interview.

Iranian leaders have warned the United States and the Soviet Union that Tehran will not be deterred from attacking vessels under the flags of the superpowers or escorted by their warships. The U.S. navy task force in the Gulf was ordered on a "heightened state of alert" after an Iraqi Mirage F-I attacked the USS Stark May 17, killing 37 American sailors.

Iraqi Foreign Minister Tareq Aziz said the pilot mistook the U.S. frigate for an Iranian

Admiral William Crowe, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chief of Staff, told the Senate Armed ton Friday that so far the Iranians. had been "more cautious than usual" since the Stark was hit. But he warned amid Iranian

To underline the close surveillance of Iranian activity, Zakhem said that an Iranian fighter-pilot was warned by a U.S. warship in the Gulf to keep clear almost as soon as he took off from a hase near Bandar Ahhas in southeast

"My God, I just took off," the astonished pilot radioed back. I'm not heading in your direction.

Zakhem said the crew of the unidentified warship, one of six U.S. vessels patrolling the Gulf, was "so alert that the moment that plane took off we were on the radio telling the pilot 'watch where you're going. You're headed in the direction of an American ship'.

In the aftermath of the Stark attack, with the United States expected to send three more warships to the Gulf and the Soviets reportedly deploying three minesweepers to reinforce their two warships in the waterway. Zakhem stressed: "We're not going to let that mistake happen again.

"We're not going to send any Services Committee in Washing- more American bodies home in except on its own terms. We want caskets." Zakhem stressed that the Americans' long-term aim is not just upholding the principle of freedom of navigation in the Gulf, hut ending the Iran-Iraq

We wish neither Iraq nor Iran any ill," he said. "But Iran is a helligerent power that refuses to come to the negotiating table. Iran does not want to end the war the war ended on a no-victor, no-vanquished basis.'

The focal point of the rising tensions in the Gulf centre on Kuwait, the country closest to the war zone and the most vulner-

Iran accused Kuwait, a major conduit for Iraqi bound cargoes, of aiding Iraq's war effort and has singled out its ships for attack in the so-called "tanker war." Moscow has leased three tank-

Washington has agreed to register 11 Kuwaiti tankers under the U.S. flag. But those plans have run into congressional opposition amid fears it could drag the United States into dangerous waters.

Diplomats in Bahrain said the Soviets have agreed to charter Kuwait as many vessels as it needs if the U.S. reflagging deal falls through.

While the superpowers are pressing Iran through the United Nations to accept mediation to end the war, they are both seeking to bolster their influence in the strategic, oil-rich region.

Chadli Klibi, secretary-general of the 22-member Arah League, has lauded the United States' "role of peace" in the Gulf. stressing that "our American friends have at last become aware of the grave dangers that weigh on this region."

After the United States began warplanes to provide air cover, course."

ers to Kuwait to give its oil Tehran sent Foreign Minister Ali exports the protection of the Akpar Velayati to Guir capitals watning against giving the super-

One of the tankers hit a mine powers any facilities. May 16 in what maritime salvage cxecutives said was an attempt by

Iran's parliament speaker, Hashemi Rafsanjani, Friday de-Iran to scare Moscow off. A clared his country must prepare to Soviet freighter was attacked by fight the United States in the Gulf gunhoats in the Gulf a week and warned Arah states it would attack any bases or ports they allow the Americans to use. Zakhem charged that the Soviets were "trying to fish in troubled waters.

U.S. Defence Secretary Caspar Weinberger has called on Britain and France to help ensure that oil shipments are not blocked.

But Britain's Lord Carrington, NATO's secretary-general has urged that the alliance stay out of involvement in the Gulf. Arah diplomatic sources said

Senators John Warner and John Glenn, who visited the Gulf last week, have advised Arab governments in the Gulf against military cooperation with the Soviets.

Zakhem, conceding dismay over the lack of support from NATO powers, stressed that the United States would go it alone if necessary to defend free navigation and resist Soviet efforts to extend their influence in the Gulf. "We're not going to turn tail," seeking bases in Gulf states for its he said. "We are going to stay the

Hawke — tough union boss who became popular Australian leader SYDNEY (R) - Prime Minister

Boh Hawke will become the first Lahour Party leader to lead Australia for three terms of office if he wins the snap election called for Juty 11.

The most popular Australian prime minister for 50 years, Hawke has slightly toned down his tough and outspoken image since moving into parliament in 1980 after 10 years in the most powerful position in Australia's union movement.

To the outside world the 57year-old. who gave up drinking when he became prime minister in March 1983, projects the role of a responsible statesman.

His main goal of coaxing Au-stralia back to economic health is allied to a no-nonsense approach to foreign affairs such as his recent closure of the Lihyan people's hureau in Canberra de-

Among his own people Hawke's charm, rugged good looks and "man-of-the people" love of sport guarantee his position as the country's political pin-

An opinion poll has put Hawke's popularity rating at a record high of 57 per cent compared with 31 per cent for opposition leader John Howard.

In his first term of office Hawke presided over the fastest economic growth in Australia for a decade, cutting inflation, raising husiness profits and employ-

His government also established a record for pragmatic and moderate economic management which saw the floating of the Australian dollar and a proposed entry of foreign hanks.

President of the Australian

Council of Trades Unions (ACTU) from 1970. Hawke won a seat in parliament at his second attempt in 1980 and set about changing his image as a tough, abrasive, outspoken and harddrinking union leader.

When Liberal Prime Minister Malcolm Fraser suddenly called a general election in February, 1983, Hawke took over the Lubour Party leadership from Bill Hayden and led the party to victory in the succeeding March poll, promising national reconciliation and government for all. His first term was aided by an element of luck such as droughthreaking rains in 1983 which prompted an agriculture-led economic recovery.

Riding the back of an economic boom. Hawke called a snap election for December 1984 after just 20 months in office, convinced that he had fulfilled his promises. He was returned, but with a reduced majority instead of the landslide win he expected. Hawke hlamed the country's complex voting system which he said led to many Labour supporters' votes being spoiled. But some commentators accused him of arrogance during a campaign huilt around himself.

An emotional man, Hawke hroke down and wept at a televised press conference during a discussion on the issue of drug ahuse. His wife later revealed that his daughter and son-in-law had been heroin addicts.

A vibrant orator with an evangelistic style, Hawke in his union days became adept at cajoling disagreeing bosses and workers round the conference table. In parliament he helped set up an inflation-cutting wages and prices accord he believed vital to maintaining industrial peace and boost the economy. The accord, allowing for central wage fixing, gradually came under strain with major husiness him of giving in too much to the unions to save it. This criticism contrasted sharp-organisations hlaming it for spiralling labour costs and accusing

Bob Hawke

ly with the earlier praise he bad earned from both the finance and business communities for his consensus approach to economic management and his rapid loosening of a highly-regulated financial

Australia's dependence on commodity exports and its helplessness to stop the slump in prices and oversupply also belped cause Hawke's latter economic prohlems.

Robert James Lee Hawke was horn on December 9, 1929 in the south Australian village of Bordertown, where his father was a congregational church minister. When he was nine the family moved to Perth. An outstanding student, Hawke won a scholarship to the University of Western Australia where he gained a law degree with honours in 1950 and, after an extra year, a degree in economics. In 1952 he won a Rhodes scholarship to Oxford University, En-studying Australia's lahour arbitration system.

While at Oxford be won a blue at cricket and a place in the Guinnes Book of Records for drinking two-and-a-half pints

gland, where he spent three years

(nearly 1.5 litres) of beer in 12 Returning from Oxford, he married Hazel Masterson, organist at his father's church, in 1956 and they have a son and two daughters. Hawke spent six months as a merry-go-round to join the ACTU as a researcher: grasp of economics and natural 1980, giving up alcohol, mod-flair for debate was to make a stying his earthy language and formidable opponent for em- devoting himself to politics.

ployer's representatives. Although he rose to the top of the union movement with the support of left-wing unions, Hawke retained his independence and freedom of manoeuvre. Under his leadership the ACTU extended its activities outside the traditional sphere of wages and conditions. Almost single-handed Hawke carried the union movement with him in an often unpopular cam-paign which ended Australia's sporting contacts with South.

Africa. In 1973 he was elected president of Australian Labour Party but stepped down in 1978 to devote more time to his union.

activities.
Hawke, whose uncle was a Labour premier for the state of Western Australia in the 1950s, first stood for parliament in 1963 but was unsuccessful.

trainee oil executive, did odd jobs ... He was once described by a as a gardener, a huilder's labour- commentator as everyone's idea er and was an attendant on a of a typical Australian - drinking like a fish, swearing like a. He had no experience of trade trooper, working like a demon unions when he was asked in 1957 and acting like a playboy. irwas an image which he modpreparing wage cases but his lifted on entering parliament in

Sharon in lar f us Arabs and Il game whose

Look lorward Entity with the bility becomes material gain," he said.

According to pollsters a sinister trend has emerged where the polls are deliberately used, or misused, to influence financial election of what it sees as an

to introducing tougher regula tions in the city, as well as new safeguards on mergers, takeovers and monopolies. Some finance experts also fear its plan for a major government spending programme to create jobs would fuel inflation, weakening the eco-

Sheppard said foreign dealers,

most experiencing their first Brit-ish election, "find it rather con-

Both the state-funded British

Broadcasting Corporation (BBC)

and Independent Television

News (ITN) say they will be able to forecast the election result within minntes of the polls closing

But long before the 10 p.m.

close, vast fortunes will have been won and lost as a result of the canvassed views of only a few

A public opinion poll consists of interviewing - either face-toface or hy telephone - a group of people chosen at random. The poll organisations maintain results over the years have proved to be accurate to between on the type of poll.

changed each time.

on Thursday night.

thousand people.

snch as Labour.

Polls come under spotlight in British election campaign

By Chris Peterson

LONDON — Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher is going to sweep back to power with a 100seat majority - or bave no majority at all, depending on att to Gulf capite

of giving the six

sumani. Frieri

err, must pretel

ases or porsit

CORCORS TO WA

inarged that ring in the de Secretari (2)

as called on Bu

help ensure in 1601 blocked

: Lord Carins

inclusy-pendid

n the Galt.

a alliance stay of

THAIR SORREST

n Warner add

Justed Arango

Oult against the

of support

(5. stressed the

, wright go il 35

descard free us

r colluence it

ार देशको (देखे) १ देशको (देखे)

ader

renealation.

which opinion poll you believe. determine the outcome of the Public opinion polls have taken general election but also for illicit control of a British election campaign as never before, with stock markets reacting to the merest hint of a new survey and political leaders changing tactics in re-

Third World aid to 'recycle' surplus By K.P. Hong The Associated Press TOKYO - Japan, under foreign pressure to use its huge trade surplus to help others, has prom-ised a major increase in its Third World aid, including a new $30hillion loan programme.

Japan says it will "recycle" some of its surplus by offering $30

hillion in public and private funds in soft loans to developing countries over the next three years. Much of this money will go to Latin America and Asia.

The special programme is in addition to the government's regular programme of official development assistance, which tntalled $5.634 billion io the fiscal year ending March 31. The government decided last month to raise that to $7.6 hillion by 1990, two years earlier than originally promised. Much of this assistance will go to Africa.

The recycling programme and the increase in regular assistance are designed to answer criticism that Japan, in huilding its powerful export-oriented economy, has taken more from the world than it has given back. Japan racked up a staggering $101.4 hillion surplus in fiscal 1986.

U.S. Secretary of State George Shultz has praised Japan for in-creasing its aid to Third World countries, "though not as much as I'd like.

The new "recycling loans" are to be low-interest, untied loans, funded by the massive inflow into Japanese banks and the capital market because of the surplus. Untied loans do not require borrowers to spend the funds on goods and services in the lender's country, a common practice by developed nations.

Hideaki Domichi, deputy director of the Foreign Ministry's aid policy division, said in an interview that most of the new "recycling loans" would probably go to developing countries in Latin America. He said leastdeveloped countries in Africa were likely to receive more official direct assistance grants.

"We believe that the recycling funds will help solve problems of structural adjustment and debt problems in developing nations, mainly in Latin America and Asia," he said. "Assistance flow into the Latin

Japan promises huge hike in American and Asian countries is declining every year, and developing countries in these regions now face such problems as declining commodity prices, subsequent lower export earnings and debt accumulation," he said. The flow nf the world's total resources into developing countries has declined from $132 hil-

Domichi said. Most Japanese development aid traditionally has gone to Asia, and Japan has not imposed polirical conditions in return for assistance. China has been one of the largest recipients, Domichi lion in 1981 to $78 billion in 1985,

He sa. details on the programmes were still being formulated, and the nature and size of the aid packages would be determined through negotiations with recipients and international organisa-

In a meeting with U.S. President Ronald Reagan in Washington early in May, Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone pledged $20 hillion more for recycling loans over three years for developing nations.

That was in addition to the original plan late last year to make available $10 billion for the three-year programme. The government said it would provide the $30 hillion to developing countries through the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund, the Asian Development Bank and the International Development Association.

Washington often has urged Japan to spend more on aid, saying it enjoys low unemployment and a huge trade surplus while also spending less on its military than the United States and other industrialised coun-

With its anti-war constitution and its mutual defence treaty with the United States as a shield, Japan spends about one per cent of its gross national product for

United States' seven per cent.

The powerful federation of economic organisations (Keidan-ren), which groups the nation's 1,000 top husiness leaders, criffcised Japan's past contributions to developing countries in a report in May.

The Keidanren said aid programmes place 100 much emphasis on "ued" loans, requiring that part of the money be spent in Japan. It also complained that grants comprised just 47.5 per cent of Japan's total aid in 1984, the last year for which figures are available. In contrast, the United States gave 80.8 per cent of its official overseas assistance as grants and less than 20 per cent as loans, the Keidanren said.

It urged the government to swiftly reduce the rate of interest on yen loans that Japan already has extended to developing coun-

Borrowers have complained that the seemingly low annual three per cent interest rate has become a heavy hurden because of the yen's 20-month heavy appreciation against the other

The report suggested that Japan's aid fund be dishursed in foreign currency denominations rather than in yen. It also said Japan should extend 50-year interest-free "ultra-soft loans."

Japan's official development assistance as a percentage of gross national product stood at 0.34 in 1984, 11th among 18 donor countries in the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development. For 1985, Japan's aid as a share of GNP fell to 0.29 per cent, dropping it to

The Foreign Ministry says Japan's official development assistance in the fiscal year ending March 31 rose 48.4 per cent in dollar terms over the previous year, to a record $5.634 hillion. In yen terms, however, the amount was up just 4.8 per cent from fiscal 1985 to 949.5 billion yen, and still was below the 1.0258 trillion yen provided in fiscal 1984.

Randa Habib's

Root out the grass before it 'catches' fire

FIREMEN are very busy these days extinguishing fires that break out almost daily in waste grounds. With the heat, it only takes someone to throw a lighted cigarette for dry grass to hurn down. But fires are breaking out not only by accident. In many cases they have been deliberate acts by neighbours whn wanted in get rid of grass because it was disturbing them and because they were worried of snakes which could hide there, posing a threat to their children who often use these lots as play grounds.

But surely this is not the way. The municipality should send its people in take care of grounds covered by thorns and grass and not wait for people to hurn them, endangering lives.

Just imagine one of those "daily fires" reaching a petrol station. It would be a catastrophe. And as most of our gas stations are located in residential areas, between houses, so many lives can be in danger. I am particularly worried about one gas station situated between two empty lots, and close to many houses. Those lots are not burned yet, and I hope no-one would be foolish enough to start

Why doesn't the municipality send some special teams to clean up all this stuff and charge the owners of the land for the cost of the cicaning up.

On flat lands, it will only take few minutes for a tractor to clean the ground. Other ways can be used on slopes. One thing is sure: We can't just sit and watch the city burn

In appreciation of Nabih Y. Bulos

THE death 10 days ago of Nahih Y. Bulos, one of the pioneers in the field of engineering in Palestine and Jordan, was indeed a loss for all those who knew him and worked with him. His contribution to the development of the area in terms of construction, roads, water and pipeline projects will be remembered for many years to come.

Born in 1909, Mr. Bulos graduated in 1929 from Loughborough University in England with first class honours in civil engineering. He held several senior positions in both the private and public sectors including that of district engineer of Nahlus district and then of Jerusalem and Gaza, and in 1948 area engineer at IPC in Homs. In 1953 Mr. Bulos was offered the position of under-secretary of state for public works in Jordan, a post he held until 1959. During that time and afterwards he was directly responsible for the design, contract specifications and preparation, and/or supervision of a number of impressive engineering projects such as Amman-Aqaba Desert Road, the East Ghor Canal irrigation proect and the Hussein Sports City.

Mr. Bulos was the oldest member of the Jordanian Engineers Association and was instrumental in setting it up. He was also very active in establishing and standardising the Kod Al Arahi — the Arab World building code.

Mr. Bulos held several advisory positions and up to his death was consultant to the Ministry of Youth and the Water Authority.

Mr. Bulos was a Fellow of the Institution of Civil Engineers and Fellow of the Institution of Arhitrators, Great Britain. On the latter account, he handled a variety of local and international arbitration cases and chaired a number of arbitral tribunals. With his demise, engineering has lost a landmark of professionalism, integrity and expertise.

In Memorium: Nabih Yusuf Bulos

NOT much must be said for his words were little hut his voice will always ring despite the silence of the beyond.

He died one early Tuesday morning. Always prompt, he had an appointment with the Sun and he was there hefore its rise. His last evening was typical:

Nabih Y. Bulos (1921-1987)

reviewing an arhitration case, a cross-word puzzle, a game of solitaire, a light supper, some television and a book. Perhaps a detective story, most probably a technical treatise. He died at home having always been at home with life.

There were colours in the eyes that defeated description: circles of grey and green and tenderness a precious stone in the making. He had a funny walk, a lilting engine sort of: the music lover and the engineer, always springing to the slightest request. Always the volunteer, he would peel your orange with a fork and knife and with love.

His weaknesses were countahle: little girls, Peach Melbas and calculators. And there was the pipe, ever lit, puffing away life's trivia. A peace pipe, a coming to terms with the world. He will be missed. For his alertness of mind and sense of responsibility. For his generosity of heart and untiring spirit.

He will he missed. For his warmth and jollity. Fot his selflessness and optimism. For his softness and mannerism. A spark of absolute justice burnt in him: Treating all — the young and the old, the fortunate and the ordinary - with the same sort of manners and the same genuineness of respect. But above all, he will be missed for his ahundance of love. He died as he lived: troubling none, bearing the pain silently.

He and his life's companion would have celebrated their fiffleth anniversary this coming August. His words to her then were

Grow old, grow ald with me, The best is yet to be.

N.B.

JORDAN MARKET PLACE

INDIAN

RESTAURANT

Chicken Tekka

Inn

Welcomes you to its unique

Jabal Amman, 3rd Cir-cle, opposite City Bank, Tel. 642437

Indian food

The Harris poll for TV-AM gave Prime Minister Thatcher a commanding 10-point lead, while the previous evening BBC's newsnight produced a result that pointed for the first time to a hung parliament, with no one party enjoying an overall

Peter Riddell, the political edi-tor of the Financial Times, said the various polls had given widely conflicting signals.

majority.

There are clear defects in the coverage of marginal surveys. By definition they cannot all be right. But they may not all be wrong. So for the overall picture, the national surveys are still the best guide."

Chinese Restaurant in Jordan 1st Circle, Jabal Amman, near Ahlıyvah Gıris School Take away is available Open daily 12:00-3:30 p.m. 6:30-Midnight Tel. 638968

EVERY

DAY

PEOPLE WHO NEED

CALL US!

Electrolux

P.O.Box 825229 AMMAN,

Tel. 604671

CLEANING

SERVICES

cuisine in Amman. Chinese Flaming pot is available Take away available Open daily 12:00 - 15-30 18:00 - 23:30

> Bridge Amman, Jordan Tel: 661922

> > CROWN

INTERNATIONAL

ESTABLISHMENT

international moving.

door-lo-door service

packing, shipping, forwarding, storage, clearing,

Wadı Saqra Road - near Traffic

CHEN'S CHINESE RESTAURANT Mecca Street, Yarmouk Engineers' Housing Estate, near Kilo

Supermarket Mongolian Barbeque for lunch and dinner Friday Tel: 818214 Come and laste our specialities Open daily 12:00 - 3:30

Charcoal Flaming Pot

RESTAURANT TAIWAN TOURISMO Authentic Chinese Food Korean Bar-B-Q

CHINESE

Take-away service Open daily Noon - 3:30 p.m. & 6:30 p.m. - midnight.

Location: Near 3rd Circle opposite Akilah Hospital Tel: 641093

EXPATRIATES We are able to advise and p.m.

6:30 - Midnight

follow up on all your governmental procedures. Work Permits.

Residence Permits. Renewal of all licences.

Visas for visitors. Let your headache become mine.

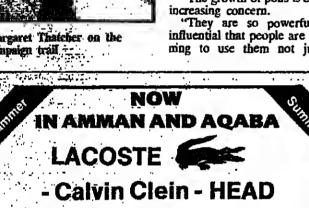

> Tel: 604088 Ali Rawashdeh.

To advertise in this section

Phone 667171-6

he toe lotter Melithe arred your health lett-ung SPECIAL EXPERTS AT YOUR SERVICE ____ THE WAR SAUNA ROOMS make handed the The hines STEAM ROOMS _ MANUAL & ELECTRONICAL BICYCLES... OIL & WATER BODY MASSAGE ____ C MAR SECTION ELECTRONICAL RUNNING MACHINES. SOLARIUM JACKOZY POOLS_____ GYMNASIUM HALLS..... COFFEE SHOP Housing Bank Centre-1st Floor

Adidas - NIKE - BOSS

Also we have Jeans Trousers, T-shirts, shorts,

all sizes. And LACOSTE: men swimming trunks, all sizes,

SUBAIH For Garments AMMAN: Bayader Wadi El Seer - 8th Circle, near Abu Shakra. AQABA: Cornice Str., JETT Bldg., and Daman Ejtima'i Bldg.

sponse to poor showings. markers. Polls taken within hours of According to market analysts, each other have either shown deliberate rumours that a poll for Thatcher poised to come back the Guardian newspaper this into power with a comfortable week showed Thatcher's hitherto majority in the 650-seat parliacommanding lead slashed to two percentage points wiped £6 bil-lion ($10 hillion) off stock market ment, or without one, raising the prospect of a minority govern-ment or the first coalition for over share values. When the poll finally came out, the Tories' lead was 40 vears. But as campaigning reaches fever-pitch ahead of the June 11 10 points. Some senior politicians believe the rumours were deliberately general election, politicians and the public alike are beginning to started by dealers anxious to see shares being sold, allowing them question the value of opinion to reap quick profits and then purchase them back at a cheaper Some 200 polls will have been price later. conducted on behalf of newspap-Robert Worcester, chairman ers, radio and television by the of the Market Opinion Research International (MORI) survey time the country's 43.6 million voters get the chance to make their preferences known in the organisation, said: "The market is being manipulated unethically. voting booths. "It's the unacceptable face of George Foulkes, a front bench capitalism. spokesman of the opposition One rather confused group of Labour Party and a consistent opponent of public opinion polls. residents are the foreign dealers who now work in London's finanthinks enough is enough. cial district following the dereg-'The growth of polls is causing ulation of the markets last October. They are so powerful and Margaret Thatcher on the campaign trail influential that people are begin-Warburg Securities, said public ming to use them not just to opinion poll fever was peculiar to British markets during an elec-He said London was the only financial centre in the world which felt itself vulnerable to the anniversary by launching a "light ring" into space is drawing angry complaints from astronomers around the world who say the inflationary, anti-husiness group giant reflecting satellite could The Labour Party is committed wreck their sensitive telescopes.

Plan for Eiffel Tower John Sheppard, an analyst with 'light ring' under attack

But the project's hackers say launching what would be the higgest satellite in the heavens is a fitting way to commemorate the erection of what was once the world's tallest structure. "It's a pointless piece of egotism," said Paul Murdin, the head of the astronomy division of the Royal Greenwich Observatory in Britain. "What we're talking about is space junk."

"The sky is not the property of astronomers," retorted Philippe Gillieron, a spokesman for the Societe Nouvelle D'exploitation de la Tour Eiffel, the company backing the plan, which was the result of an international competition.

Gillieron compared the astronomer's complaints with the outcry over the Eiffel Tower's con-

The expected launch date is now 1990, a year later than the anniversary and planned celehrations. The satellite would be carried into space by the Ariane rocket, the scheduling of which has been disrupted by launch

The estimated 300 million francs ($50 million) needed has yet to be raised. The company is seeking to raise a subscription supported by 21 major European corporations.

failures.

The light ring would consist of 100 reflectors linked by plastic tubes, each 240 metres long, orbiting 800 kilometres above the earth. It would reflect sunlight and be visible at night.

Eiffel Tower

Lendl wins French Open men's title

PARIS (Agencies) — Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia retained his men's singles title at the French Open tennis championships Sunday, beating Sweden's Mats Wilander 7-5, 6-2, 3-6, 7-6 in a match that finished in rain and semi-darkness.

Lendi, who was appearing in his fourth successive final, took four hours, 17 minutes to clinch the title for the third time. He won last year and in 1984 but was beaten in 1985 by Wilander. It was the fifth Grand Slam success for the 27-year-old Czechoslovak, the world's number I player, who has also won the U.S. Open twice.

The match was interrupted by rain in the middle of the fourth set with Lendi leading 3-2. When play resumed under grey skies 35 inexperienced horse in the field,

won the Prix Du Jockey Club

(French Derby) Sunday to give the Aga Khan his fourth success in the race in the last nine years.

The colt, racing for only the third time, was brought by veteran Yves Saint-Martin on the wide outside and won by a head from Trempolinn, the mount of English champion jockey Pat

English challenger Naheez, ridden by Steve Cauthen who woo

the English Derby on Reference

Manday 5.30 - 7.30 p.m.

less troubled by the delay. He won the first six points, holding serve for 3-3 and moving to 0-30 on Lendl's service. But the defending champion recovered his concentration, hit three winners and rallied to hold for 4-3. Both players then held at love and Wilander twice had to serve to save the match, first at 4-5 and then at 5-6. He succeeded both times and took the set into a As the rain began to fall again, the centre court crowd huddled

Beginner Natroun wins French

be third, twn lengths away, with the nutsider Mansonnien another

The result was some compensatioo for the Aga Khan and his jockey after the disappointing showing of Sadjiyd in the English equivalent on Wednesday.

Sadjiyd had been heavily backed to lift the Epsom Classic but lost many lengths at the start, although he ran on to finish in a

The disappointment of Sunday's race was Irish-trained Seat-respectable eighth position.

length away in fourth place.

Derby for Aga Khan again

PARIS (R) - Natroun, the most Point on Wedoesday, ran on to

Ali our products are guaranteed 100% NATURAL (No additives of any kind). A special section for diabetics and natural cosmétics. Free advice from our beauty expert available every

NATURE FOOD CENTRE

Amman, Tel. 626168

FOR SALE

83 Honda Accord w/AC, centre lock, sun roof, 30,000 kilometres, duty not paid $4,500; Beautiful imported Rattan wicker living room set 7 pcs. JD 275; Tunturi exercise bike JD 60;

dumbell, Phillips turntable JD 18; assorted toys, intellivision with 5 games JD 35, U.S. baby crib JD 35; playpen JD 12; Perego stroller JD 10; kitchenware, good used children clothes, shoes, size 0-4, ladies size 10-12, assorted plants, misc.

Tel 604-171 ext 426 or 642584

FOR RENT

Luxurious apartments, located behind Nissan Showroom in Sports City neighbourhood, each with separate central heating, carpark, play-

1. Two bedrooms, salon, dining room, modern kitchen, two verandas, bathroom. Annual rent: JD 1,300. 2, Two bedrooms, 2 bathrooms, salon, dining room, sitting room, modern

For more information, please call: Youssef Shucair, Tel:

grounds for children and all other utilities.

kitchen and balcony. Annual rent: JD 1,500.

Vilander... the victim

under umbrellas and Lendl seemed in a hurry to get the tiebreaker nver and win the He ripped off the first four tie Dancer, the world's most ex-pensive yearling at $13.1 millioo. Trained by Vincent O'brien and ridden by American Cash Asmussen, the horse was given every chance but could finish only sixth.

The early lead in the mile-and-a-half test was held by Seattle

Dancer's pacemaker Ancient Times but wheo the 17-strong field turned into the straight,

Trempolino looked the likely

However, as Eddery set sail for home, Saint-Martin was making ominous progress.

In a driving finish the Frenchman got up in the final 50 metres

to claim his ninth French Derby victory and lift the $342,856 first

Lendi... the victor points in style but let the Swede back in, with two sloppy errors. But a fantastic stretching backhand pass down the line took Lendl to 5-2 and he moved to 6-2

Wilander hit a service return Lendl, appearing in his fourth successive final here, played the more powerful tennis for most of

The Czechoslovak, fired up for victory, raced into a 4-0 lead in the tie-break, serving aggressive-ly and taking the initiative. Wilander came back to 4-2 and saved one match-point with a smash for 6-3. But, with the crowd chanting their names, Lendl clinched the tie-break at 7-3 to retain the title he won last year against Sweden's Mikael

"This was the hardest of my five Grand Slams," said Lendl, who won his first in a dramatic five-setter against American John McEuroe here in 1984.

New Zealander wins Australian marathon

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) -New Zealand's Peter Renner, competiog over the distance for only the secood time, scored a convincing victory Sunday in the Australian Marathon Cham-

Renner, a 28-year-old logging contractor who has represented his country in the Olympics as a steeplechaser, covered the 26 miles, 385 yards (42.2 kms) in 2 hours, 14 minutes, 9 seconds.

Renner, ignoring the cold, damp, windy conditions, turned back a late challenge from Australiao Danny Boltz, who finished second in 2:14.36.

"I was surprised how easy it was over the last few kilometres," said Renner. "I relaxed and ran

Gabriel Kaman, a Kenyan resident of the United States was third in 2:16.04.

Suleiman Nyambui of Tanzania, who also lives in the United States, was fourth in 2:18.33 with fellow Tanzanian Agapius Masoog, also a resident of the United States, fifth in 2:18.42.

Hugo Rey of Switzerland was sixth in 2:19.20 over a difficult hilly course with many corners that made fast times difficult. Tani Ruckle, a Canadian-born Australian, won the women's divisino with a time of 2:37.52. She led virtually all the way.

Ruckle collapsed after her victory and was put oo an in-travenous drip by doctors due to dehydration and exhaustion.

Australian

SALZBURG, Austria (R) — Wayne Gardner of Australia won Sunday's 500 CC Austrian Motorcycle Grand Prix on the fast Salzburgring track after a

Gardner seized the lead oo his Honda at the end of the first lap. Mamola edged his Yamaha into the lead numerous times but the Australian pulled away in the final two laps to cross the line 2.4

Gardner's greatest rival for the

His exit allowed Gardner to stretch his tally in the championship standings to 58 points, 14 ahead of Mamola. Lawson, who was second before Sunday's race, drops to fourth place, 19 points adrift.

place in history books ELMONT, New York (R) - jockey Craig Perret exacted full revenge on Alysheba, and col-lected a $1 million bonus, by Trainer Jack Van Berg and Alvsheba were denied a place romping to a 14-length victory among horse racing's elite by one ahead of Cryptoclearance with Gulch third. Alysbeba, the of the most remarkable turnar-Bet Twice - narrowly beaten

Van Berg, Alysheba denied

mont Park to roar Alysheba into tucky Derby and Preakness Stakes — pounded to one of the most decisive victories in the Belmoot Stakes on Saturday as the American Triple Crown eluded Van Berg and his three-year-old ba lost but that Bet Twice, who Victory would have earned appeared totally outclassed in the Alysheba a place alongside 11 gallop for the line as Alysheba other thoroughbreds in history who have swept the three U.S. won the twn previous classics. should triumph so emphatically.

Van Berg, too, would have joined the select group of 10 men — James Fitzsimmons achieved Stephens with the first of his five the feat with two horses in 1930 successive wins in 1982, and was and 1935 - who trained Triple Crown-winning colts.

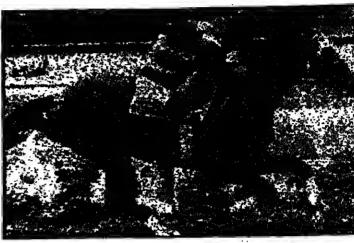

· But 8-1 shot Bet Twice and the fifth biggest ever.

favourite, was fourth. Nearly 65,000 fans packed Bel-the record books. It was the biggest attendance at the course since Affirmed captured the last Triple Crown in 1978, but this time most left disappointed. The shock was not that Alyshe-

It was the largest victory mar-gin since Conquistador Cielo pre-sented local trainer Woody

Alysheba was baulked coming

Alysheba ... the gallop to history books thwarted (file photo)

round the final bend and lost ground wheo jockey Chris. McCarron snapped him sideways to avoid a collision with Gone

"If that hadn't happened, he would have been an easy-second," Van Berg said. "But he would never have beaten Bet Twice today - not the way he ran. You like to win but you can't cry if you lose. If one guy won every race there would be no

"Of course I am disappointed at losing the Triple Crown. But I've been busted all my life so a few more years won't hurt. He went to the post perfect but there's been a lot of them knocked off before and a lot will be

Ironically, it was the first appearance in the Belmoot Stakes for Perret, Bet Twice trainer Jimmy Croll and owner

Bob Levy.
"Bet Twice fired as I knew he would," said Perret. "He's been super in all three races and today Alysheba was not on top of his

"As long as my horse was comfortable I wasn't worned where I was. I put my horse on the best part of the track and was running very relaxed. I kept an eye on Gone West, thinking I would have to move with him."

Bet Twice hit the front just after halfway and thereafter reduced the race to a procession, powering down the straight to put more and more daylight between him and the chasing pack.

Alysheba is the 11th horse to miss the Triple Crown after win ming the first two classics:

NATURE FOOD CENTRE (NFC) (First health food shop in Jordan) Now Graf looks to Wimbledon and beyond An invitation to all dieters, slimmers, vegetarians, weight watchers, athletes, and health lood lovers to visit us for enjoyable little her time is over. Holder of 15 Grand Slam titles, world number one in 1978, 1979, and 1982-86, and winner of over $12 million in prize money, Navratilova abdicated in Paris ou Saturday when she double faulted on match-point to hand Steffi Graf the French Opeo crown.

PARIS (R) - Whether nor not Martina Navratilova wins Wimbledon in four weeks time matters

While it may take some mouths before the West German teeoager, who will be 18 a week Sunday, actually assumes the number one status in the rankings, no one who witnessed her 6-4, 4-6, 8-6 triumph at Roland Garros is any doubt the 30-year-old American is now anything but second best.

It would be foolish to dismiss

Navratilova's chances on the fast grass of Wimbledoo where she will be bidding for a sixth successive and eighth overall victory, and she still holds a 5-3 lead over her teenage rival. But Graf, who had arrived in Paris as the world number two after easing aside Chris Evert, looks set to begin a new dynasty in womeo's tennis which may see her ultimately challenge Navratilova's remarkable record of seven Wimbledon titles, three U.S., and separate garden surrounding.

Navratilova... the vanquished

three Australian and two French. Long before Navratilova's oervy double-fault oo match point in the fourth game of the final set, the American had developed a complex about the West German who had entered the centre court with an unbeaten record in 1987 stretching back 38 matches.

"Martina has had a "thing" about Steffi since losing to her in Key Biscane last March," explained one locker-room rival. "She finished that match in tears, has been afraid of Steffi ever since and that's why she even plays with the same racket now."

Alarmed by the power Graf generates, particularly oo her "killer vorhand" as it is known, Navratilova borrowed a similar racket from Canadian Carling Bassett during a practice session while in Rome for last month's Italian Open. Navratilova liked the "Wunder-Bat" so much she bought several, blacked out the maker's logo, and re-painted it in the livery of her own racket sponsor.

The youngest woman to win the French title, Graf inteods playing in the three other major championships this year — Wimbledon and the U.S. and Australian Opens.

"She could win the lot, yes, I mean the Grand Slam," said Event, who may not be content to linger in the sport now she has dropped to number three. "She is so powerful it's frightening."

Accompanied everywhere by father and mentor Peter Graf and new coach Pavel Slozil, the Czechoslovak Davis Cup player, who is improving her serve-volley technique for Wimbledon and the other faster surfaces, Graf refuses to accept her success will lead to

"I think it will be fun to be number one. No, I don't think I'm number one just yet, Martina still is ... though I'm a step closer."

motorcyclist wins Austrian Grand Prix

ounds in the sport's history.

classics in one season.

by Alysheba in both the Ken-furious race-long duel with American Randy Mamola.

seconds ahead.

American Eddie Lawson, world championship, retired his Yamaha early in the race.

Britoo Niall Mackenzie rode one of the best races of his career to take third on a Honda while his compatriot Ron Haslam slipped to fourth after leading the opening lap with one of his customary rocket starts.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

S. Korean boxer retains world title

SEOUL (R) - South Korean Yuh Myung-Woo showed superior skill and punching power to retain his World Boxing Association (WBA) junior-flyweight title in the southern city of Pusan on Sunday. Yuli stopped Panamanian Benedicto Murillo midway through the 15th and final round wheo U.S. referee Ruddy Battle moved between the fighters as the champion pinned Murillo on the ropes with a barrage of manswered blows.

Bodies of missing climbers found in tent

PARADISE, Washington (AP) — The bodies of two mountain climbers missing for a week on Mount Rainier have been recovered from a tent where the men had sought refuge from a storm, National Park officials said. The tent, at the 13,000-foot (4,000-metre) level oear Liberty Ridge, had been hit by an avalanche, and the men appeared to have died instantly, said Mount Rainier National Park spokesman C.Y. Hentges.

VILLA FOR RENT FULL HOUSE OF FURNITURE FOR SALE DUE TO LEAVING THE COUNTRY

We have a villa consisting of two bedrooms, salon, dining room, sitting room, two bathrooms, and two verandas with central heating and: telephone. The villa can be rented furnished or unfurnished.

Location: Abdali - Police Training College Str., opposite, Foreigners' Affairs Dept.

Cail: 666442

FOR RENT

Furnished or semi-furnished first floor of modern villa. 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, salon 100m², and a deluxe American kitchen, central heating, and telephone.

Phone: 621508 Hijazi Pharmacy or inquire at location: Mecca Str., near Al Husseln Housing, 8th building from Dima Book Store.

A DELUXE OFFICE BUILDING FOR RENT

The building is located in an excellent position in the Gardens Area opposite Al Zaitouneh Building serves as deluxe offices for major companies.

Call at the site or on tel: 639378

TO LET

A 1st floor apartment 305 sqm. 4 verandas, 3 bedrooms, modern furnished kitchen, central heating, with telephone and separate entrance. Near the Middle East Hotel. Shmeisani, Amman.

Telephone irbid: 02-273164

APARTMENT FOR RENT FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED

TO LET

Deluxe furnished semi villa and/or separate adjacent furnished office with talex. 2 bedrooms, dining and sitting rooms, kitchan

Interested, please call tel: 821470

Location: opposite to and overlooking Holiday Inc.

First floor apartment, consisting of 3 bedrooms, living room, dining room, & salon, big terrace, separate central heating and

> Location: 4th Circle, near Zahran Palace Please call: 641604 after 2 p.m.

FURNISHED VILLA FOR RENT-AMMAN .

University area; four bedrooms, maid's room, three bathrooms, living and dining rooms and salon; carport, large garden, central heating, water cistem, telephone.

Call: 844870

FURNISHED AND UNFURNISHED

FLATS FOR RENT

Consisting of two and three bedrooms, salon, dining room, verandas, independent central heating, independent telephone, small garden, with deluxe furniture.

Location: Shmeisani near Tyche Hotel. Cail Tel: 669205

VILLA FOR RENT

A fully furnished villa with large garden, 3 bedrooms, dining-sitting room, cantral heating, TV and video. Location: Mari Al Hamam Prince Hamza Housing Estate

Please phone: 892435 or 892640

CONCORD

BIG TROUBLE IN

LITTLE CHINA

FURNISHED FLAT FOR RENT OR SALE

Two bedrooms, third floor flat (sorry, no lift!) with colour TV, telephone and wall-to-wall carpeting. Parking available and supermarket on ground floor. Yarmouk Housing Project at the intersection of Mecca Street and the new highway to the University.

Phone $10039 (or 0851182 8 a.m. - 4 p.m.)

Tel: 675573

FOR RENT Furnished deluxe apartment in best area of Shmeisani. Two bedrooms, big salon, dining room, two verandas, well furnished with separate telephone and central heating

Location: opposite to Marriott Hotel-For more details please call Tel: 674600

FOR SALE

LADA 1300, 67,000 kms, model 1981 Duty free. Price: JD 375.

Please contact Pascal Joseph, French Cultural Centre, Tel: 637009

Tel: 625155

Tel: 677420

CHILD-

DESERT

RAGHADAN

Performances 3:30, 6:00, 8:30, 10:30

RAINBOW

STAYING

3-15, h-30, R-30, 10:30

PLATOON

and garage.

rating.

Weekly Financial Report

By Fouad Batshon

AMMAN - Last week the U.S. dollar moved higher due to short covering from hig banks around the world before the Venice meeting of the Group of Seven. The dollar traded in a very wide range of 0.338 - 0.346 fils against the Jordanian dinar. Charts still indicate that the dollar could move five per cent lower but not before the Venice meeting.

The expected dollar range fur this week is 0.338 - 0.348 fils. The pound sterling lost ground and moved lower due to heavy selling because of the strong dollar. The pound traded between 0.5450 - 0.5570.

The D.M./S.F. moved lower due to the strong dollar. The D.M. traded between 0.1825 -0 1880 fils and the S.F. between 0.2175 - 0.2225 fils.

in the

erret. B y Croff and fired as I keen

Perret Heste

Tee laces and te

s not on top of

as my home

I wasn't some

I put my bone of the track and relaxed. I ke hit the iron and therealer

ice to a proces

an the straight

we daylight ben chasing pad is the 11th how ne Crown after;

ii two classos.

SIEF

an Showed supply

Boxing Assource

city of Puster

· Niunilo mile

force Ruddy Bac

pinned Munior

nd in tent

estrom owi in ...

Cainier have ber oght refugation.

at the L 0004s

.d besa hi h t ಸ್ತುರ ಪ್ರಕಾಣಿಗೆ ಜೆ

E FOR SAL

orang taun S

THE DESIGNATION OF THE PERSON OF THE PERSON

11 The 12 The 12

cocasie Paessi

ING FOR

at DOSIDON &

iu. Cinc sarái

IRNISHED

Control of Section 1980 Contro

OUNTRY

. Hentges

title

The Lebanese lira moved still lower against the dollar because of the uncertainty in the political and military situation in Lebanon. It traded between 375 - 368 L.L./JD. The Syrian lira traded between 95 - 90 S.L./JD and the Kuwaiti dinar traded between JD 1.220 -

The Egyptian pound traded between 0.165 - 0.170 fils and the Iraqi dinar between 0.260 -0.250 fils.

Metals still traded lower due to the strong dollar. Gold dropped from a high of $455 an ounce to $441 an ounce. Silver dropped from $7.80 to $7.20 an Charts indicate that gold is still in a consolidation period around the levels of $440 - $460 an ounce for the time being hefore moving higher towards $475 an ounce.

Silver could push to a high of $8.60 an ounce during the same period.

Gold prices in Amman hased on the daily hulletin presented by the Jordan Jewellery Store are as follows:

Gold per gramme 21 carats JD 4.150 - JD 4.050 Gold per gramme 18 carats JD 4.000 - JD 3.900

ism to hedge against swings in Japanese share prices will make Osaka's venture an initial success, but inherent flaws and the expected introduction of more attractive alteroatives will diminish its appeal in the long term,

With stock prices in Japan at trading starts on June 9.

ter, analysts said.

such high levels, investors really need a hedge against volatility and a possible plunge," said Mr. Taisuke Hamaora, analyst at Wako Securities. "Japanese hanks, securities house and insurance companies will be the biggest investors. Foreigners will follow later," he added. "The futures contract will be very heavily in demand." A survey of Japanese institu-

Investors welcome Japan's stock futures but foresee troubles ahead
TOKYO (R) — Trading in tional investors by Daiwa SecurJapanese stock futures is likely to tices, Japan's second largest buy stocks.

get off to a roaringg start this week but may stumble into snags brokerage house, predicts 5,000 initial orders for the contracts and even collapse completely lacurrently priced at around 65 million yen each (ahout The Osaka Stock Exchange is $452,000)

preparing for a swarm of buyers chasing futures contracts linked "We revised this prediction up from 1,500 earlier," said Mr. Tadashi Sato of Daiwa Securities. to a hasket of the shares of 50 major Japanese companies, cal-'It is important for the future of stock futures trading in Japan led the Osaka Futures 50, when that it goes well." Pent up demand for a mechan-

The Osaka exchange, the third richest in the world after Tokyo and New York, said 24 companies had become members of the exchange this year expressly to trade the Futures 50. Among them were Salomon Brothers Asia Ltd. and Morgan Stanley

The futures trade mechanism allows investors to huy or sell the 50-share package at a fixed price on or before a specified date. This means speculators can make money even when share prices plunge.

It also enables investors to switch between huying the futures contract and the actual 50 stocks it represents. When stocks look more attractive relative to contracts expired,

But the Osaka Fntures 50 is likely to run into trouble because of several inherent shortcomings, analysts said.

There are many problems with the contract. I think it is just temporary, just a start," one hroker at Yamaichi Securines

Brokers complain the 50 famous names picked to compose the contract do not sufficiently reflect the fluctuations of Japan's main stock barometer, the Nikkei average of 225 shares traded on the Tokyo Stock Exchange.

Most fund managers judge their performance against the Nikkei average. Fund managers would welcome a futures contract tied to movements in the Nikkei average, but this is currently prohibited because Japan hans trading in anything that cannot be physically delivered.

The Osaka exchange gets around this restriction hy saying that all the Osaka 50 shares would be delivered to the investor if they did not sell before their

African Development Bank plans ambitious programme

ABIDJAN (R) - The African Development Bank n'Diaye of Senegal has also woh (ADB). Africa's foremost development financing institution, is set to embark on an ambitious course of promoting economic growth in a continent beset ADB a covered triple a credit by floundering loan agreements.

Undaunted by the sorry experi-ences of other major Third World lenders with deht repayment, the bank holds its 23rd annual meeting in Cairo from next Tuesday to Thursday with prospects hright for future lending plans.

ADB governors are voting by postal ballot on a capital increase of 200 per cent which will finance a rise in lending between 1987

An ADB spokeswoman said the United States had already approved the increase, which would mean a rise in capital to around $19.66 billion from $6.55 billion.

There will be no dehate on the capital increase at the Cairo meeting, but without its approval some of the bank's lending plans nnder discussion could be in

ADB Secretary General Koffi Dei-Anang said: The capital in-crease is in effect a passport to the capital market."

Mr. Dei-Anang told reporters at the bank's Abidjan headquarters that the increased capital will enable the ADB to borrow something like $4.5 hillion in the next five years.

Most of these new funds will go to agriculture, which received 38 per cent of ADB lending in 1986.

The Reagan administration has been enthusiastic in its support for the ADB and the hank has enjoyed improved access to U.S., Japanese and European capital markets since non-African countries were allowed to become members in 1982.

symposium preceding the formal ADB meeting 10 discuss Africa's environmental crisis, Mr. Dei-Anang said. Delegates will discuss the role of the ADB in alleviating environmental deterioration, which many experts have hlamed for food shortages ADB President Babacar and famine.

the respect of the international financial community with his shrewd management, earning the

The Cairo meeting is expected to approve the ADB annual report and accounts and discuss cooperative agreements with such organisations as the Inter African

IACO Secretary General Are-

ga Worku told Reuters the agreement with the ADB was ready to be signed and included the exchange of information and expertise on coffee industry projects which the hank might finance.

Another major event will be a

Coffee Organisation (IACO).

HOPOS (

FORECAST FOR MONDAY, JUNE 8, 1987

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Consider your deepseated aims and ambitiona now. You will be able to procure them with the least amount of conflict from others. Don't give in to negative feelings.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Tap your subconsciona and come up with fine ideas for making the future

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A situation may come up between you and a partner that will need a little time

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Try to be more inderstanding of what co-workers expect of you. Don't permit a pessimist to depress you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) You need to put more effort and study into some project you have LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) There is some condition at home that puzzles you, so quietly question a family tie to get clarification. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) It's a fine day to go after the data you need in order to improve your routines. Be careful while driving today. "LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have to study carefully any practical matter you want handled today. Set up good budget. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plan just how you can gain your important wishes. Don't get into any heavy SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Know what your personal goals are and how best to gain them. Have a chat with your mate.

-CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You need to be more steadfast and purposeful if you are to gain personal wishes or business goals now.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can begin the day properly by scheduling your activities and time

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Be sure to study every phase of a new project if you want to handla it construc-

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he, or she, will be one of those charming young persons who will have every ability to discover whatever is desired. Teach this child, however, to listen to the views of others and to respect them. Make sure you give an education to accommodate this child'e capabilities.

Exports of oil, gold and textiles narrow China's trade deficit

PEKING (R) — China's foreign trade performance has improved dramatically this year, thanks to soaring textile exports and rising prices for its oil and gold.

China posted a trade deficit of $1.7 hilion in the first four months of 1987, down from $4.5 billion in the same period last year. In 1985 and 1986, the country's combined deficit totalled nearly $26 billion.

"The main reasons for this success are surging demand for China's textiles and L higher world oil price," a Western diplo-mat said. "These are the two most important export items." The China Daily said that textile exports were worth $3 billion in the first five months of this year, up 40 per cent over the same period last year. It attributed the boom to expanding world demand and the improved quality and prices of Chinese textiles, with domestic producers using designs and brands provided by foreign part-

Oil accounted for a fifth of export earning in 1985. The slump in prices last year to as low as $10 a barrel cost China

$3 billion in lost export earnings, according to official estimates. World prices are currently around $18. An official of Sinochem, which handles China's oil trade, said he expected prices to rise to about $20 in the second half of the year. The wild card in Peking's export pack is gold. China is the world's fourth-largest producer and is believed to have increased gold exports this year, the diplomat said. The official Chinese press does not give figures for gold exports, and customs statistics do not list the metal.

However, dealers in Hong Kong said about 15 tonnes of gold was shipped there from China last year, through official channels and smuggling.

Figures issued by the Hong Kong government show that in the first two months of this year the colony imported from China 71.181 grammes of gold bullion against 388,124 grammes in all of last year, and 240,295 grammes of gold alloy against 242,709 grammes in all of 1986.

Chinese newspapers say national gold output bas risen by 10 per cent a year since 1980 but gold reserves have not gone up. Last month the media reported major new finds in four southern provinces and forecast that south west China might become the country's "gold valley". Japanese traders said last October that China was offering gold instead of goods in barter deals to Industry sources put China's gold output at 65 tonnes a year, fourth after South Africa, the problem. Soviet Union and Australia.

Agricultural reforms come under strong attack

Meanwhile, agricultural reforms which are at the heart of the Chinese leadership's economic strategy are coming under strong attack, the People's Daily has said.

But the leading official newspaper said in a front-page editorial that the reforms were the only hope for China's 800 million

The daily said some people were calling for the Communist Party's present campaign against Western political ideas to be expanded to deal with what they saw as the root cause of the problem - anti-socialist influences in the economy. The official press said earlier that sme officials viewed the reforms, which have helped to raise productivity and incomes in the Chinese countryside, as capitalist in nature.

Ever since the reforms began after Mr. Deng Xiaoping's return to power in 1978, the Chinese leader and his supporters have been fighting off the charge that they go against basic socialist

Mr. Deng and his reformers counter that they are developing socialism with Chinese characteristics.

The People's Daily indicated that officials opposed to agricultural reform were gaining ground in the party's discussions, saying that "old-fashioned, rigid thinking" on economic matters

It said many peasants were already worried that the reformists' policies would change and the land would once more be collectivised.

Any donbts cast on the reforms would increase these fears and harm economic development, it

"The problems and difficulties we are facing should not be exaggerated," the paper said.
"We cannot discard the successes of the reforms or turn around and pick up the old system which restricted the development of production," it added.

PARIS (R) — The four-nation Airbus consortium formally launched a programme last week to huild a new generation of airliners which it bopes will break the U.S. manufacturers' hold on the were unfair long-baul market. Toulouse-hased Airbus Industrie said in a statement that the long-range A340 would be ready to fly commercially in May 1992 and the medium-range A330 would be in the air the next year. Consortium memhers West Germany, France and Britain, have made funding commitments for the new planes. The fourth member, Spain, has a smaller stake and has yet to make a financial pledge. Airbus President Jean Pierson said: "Having launched the A340 and A330, we are able to offer a full range of airliners to match airline needs." The consortium says it has 130 orders for the

The new programme is intended to secure the future of Airbus in the world market by extending its range to include long-haul, low-fuel consumption planes to compete with new models being produced by U.S. had expressed interest in or had companies McDonnell Donglas placed firm orders for 130 planes, four per cent.

U.S. officials and manufacturers have expressed anger at the government subsidies for the Airbus projects, arguing tht they "The achievement of a full product-line has been a long-beld goal and is expected to significantly enhance our performance in the market place and our commitment to stay and expand a major airline supplier," Mr. Pierson added.

The A340. a four-engined jet designed to carry about 260 pas-sengers up to 14,250 kilometres, takes the European consortium into the long-haul market for the It is designed to compete with the Boeing 747 Jumbo jet and the

McDonnell Douglas MD11, an updated model of the DC-10. The second new aircraft, the 330, will use the same wings, flight deck and other components and will bave a range of 9,250

tion with medium to long-range planes such as the Boeing 767. The statement said 10 airlines kilometres, putting it in competi-

Airbus launches two new projects of which 89 were for the A340 The programme was originally due to be launched in March hut was delayed by arguments over

> The main obstacle was removed on Tuesday when West Germany fell into line with France and Britain and agreed to a funding package of more than $2.5 The sum was less than the $3.8

government funding

billion sought by the West German firm in the consortium, Messerschmitt-Boelkow-Blohm (MBB), but cleared the way for the announcement which precedes the opening this week of the Paris air show.

Britain, the first to making a funding commitment, said last month it would provide $750 million to belp British aerospace participate in the project.

France followed by promising to finance 60 per cent of $1.7 billion needed by the state aerospace firm Aerospatiale and engine builder Snecma to take part. Aerospatiale and MBB each have a 38 per cent share in Airbus Industrie, British Aerospace has had expressed interest in or had 20 per cent and Casa of Spain has zero.

Economy contracts in Ivory Coast

ABIDJAN (R) — Ivory Coast, one of Africa's most prosperous nations, is now losing money on all its main exports and its economy is shrinking, Agriculture Minister Denis Bra Kanon says.

In a speech to university graduates, Mr. Bra Kanon said a slump in the prices of coffee and cocoa, Ivory Coast's two main exports, caused a large financing gap this

"The consequences (of the gap) will be a halt to important economic, social and cultural projects," he said, adding that economic growth was now below

"At the moment the Caisse (Ivory Coast's commodities marketing board) is losing money on all its main export products, notably coffee, cocoa, cotton, palmoil, coconut oil and raw sugar," be said.

"Since the resources of the Caisse are limited, they will soon run out if this has not already happened," he added. Because Ivory Coast, like many African countries, pays farmers a guaranteed price and meets other fixed costs, it loses fall loo far. Mr. Bra Kanon, criticising speculators and what he called the failure of international commodity agreements, said the Caisse could have a deficit of up to 150

this year. He said speculators made world commodity prices volatile and budgetary planning in the Third World impossible.

hillion cfa francs ($495 million)

He also accused Western countries of hypocrisy in defending free market trading while granting their farmers massive sbsi-

Peanuts

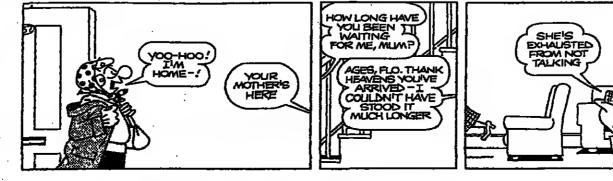

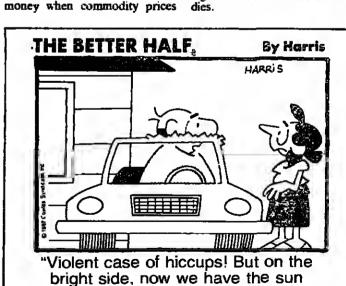

Mutt'n' Jeff

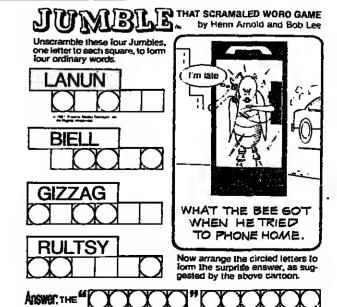

Andy Capp

roof you always wanted!"

(Answers tomorrow Jumbles: ARRAY GAWKY COBALT INWARD What an absconder steals after he steals money-AWAY

Philippine police 'Eagles' return to fight Communist 'Sparrows'

MANILA (Agencies) — Elite police squads, acting under orders from President Corazon Aquino, were sent out Sunday to hunt down left-wing assassins who have killed at least six policemen and one soldier in a week.

Two more policemen were gunned down by unidentified attackers in the past two days. Investigators said Sergeant Dionisio Angeles, police chief of Santa Ana town just north of Manila, was killed by gunmen as he was returning home on Friday. Sergeant Sabino Millare was also shot on his way home Saturday ila, they said. Mrs. Aquino, battling Asia's largest Communist insurgency, Saturday ordered intesified military and police operations against the rebel hit-men, duhbed "Spar-

night in Taguig in suburban Man-

Six policemen have been killed the past week in the Manila area by the "Sparrows," named for the speed with which they strike. The Sparrows are small, welltrained and well-armed units of the Communist New People's Army (NPA). Their targets are usually policemen. The police squads charged with tracking the Sparrows down, and if necessary killing them, are called "Eagles."

LONDON (R) — Seven journalists, including one Jordanian, in mid-career in the developing world have been awarded fellowships by the Reuter Founda-

Four will study at Oxford University, England, two at Stand-ford University, U.S.A, and one at Bordeaux University, France, during the 1987-88 academic

This is one more than in previous years. The extra fellowship at Oxford has been awarded to Munzir Elahi of the Pakistan ver-

tion to study at universities.

This is the second time in two months that the Eagles, veteran policemen formed into five-member squads, have been ordered

"They are proficient marksmen, some are judo and karate experts, and all of them have guts." Captain Jose Pring, an Eagles commander, told Reuters.

The 200-man Eagle force claimed to have killed nine suspected rebels in a two-week operation last March after a similar upsurge of Sparrow murders. The NPA denied any of the police victims were rebels. Four alleged rebels were killed during the weekend in clashes with troops outside the capital, the Philippine News Agency reported were wounded when rebels raided a police headquarters in

Thirteen soldiers were wounded, including nine in an army vehicle that struck a landmine. The news agency said three rebels were killed on Friday in an army raid on an NPA hideout in

Mrs. Aquino ordered the Eagles into action after an and generals of the armed forces emergency meeting at the presidential palace Saturday with army commanders led by Armed Forces Chief Gen. Fidel Ramos.

Mrs. Aquino said the second decree smacked of "the law of the kings" and had "no place in a

The Commission on Election

20 winners in the May 11 election

They included 19 ruling party candidates and movie actor

Joseph Estrada, an oppositionist.

counted 90 per cent of the votes.

plans to proclaim the four other had delayed the proclamation.

Opposition charges of fraud

The commission has ordered a provincial military commander

relieved of duty for allegedly using his men to work for opposition candidates in the May 11

congressional halloting, an offi-

Commissioner Haydee Yorac

said the order was issued on May 29 after Cagayan province Governor Teresa Dupaya and other local officials asked the elections body to dismiss Lt.-Col. Reynal-do Águinaldo as provincial com-

The commission, which has democratic society.

vinners this week.

cial said Sunday.

17 die in Tokyo fire

officials said Sunday.

spokesman said.

a police officer.

TOKYO (Agencies) - Seventeen people were killed and 27 injured in a late-night fire at an old people's home in an eastern suburb of Tokyo, fire hrigade

Those killed were aged be-tween 71 and 93. Five died in

Seventy-five people were in the home, including two women em-

shortly before midnight at Shojnen in Higashi Murayama city, a

More than 30 of the residents were bed-ridden and some were carried on the backs of firemen to

Firemen brought the blaze in the three-storey building under control after two and a half

The injured, none of whom were hart seriously, were taken to local hospitals after their rescue, said Katsuyoshi Yamanaka,

He said the cause of the fire

Police and fire department officials were investigating the cause of the fire, police said.

was not immediately known.

sman sa

ployees, when the fire hroke out

A palace spokesman said Mrs. Saturday overrode opposition Aguino was "very concerned" at the resurgence of Sparrow killprotests and officially proclaimed for 24 Senate seats.

The army officers told Mrs. Aquino the rebels' tactic of shifting the guerrilla war to the cities could be aimed at easing military pressure on guerrilla forces in

The spokesman said the military was concerned about the impact of the killings on the shaky Philippine economy.

He quoted one commander as telling Mrs. Aquino: "If the Sparrows can kill police officers, they can hit businessmen.'

Besides reactivating the Eagles, the military also decided to resume random checks of vehicles in the capital and ask residents to report the possible presence of rebels, the spokesman

Mrs. Aquino Saturday repealed two decrees issued by former President Ferdinand Marcos. including one which increased the penalty for subversion from life imprisonment to death.

The other decree prescribed Col. Aguinaldo is a supporter the death penalty for anyone who of Juan Ponce Enrile, who was tried to kill the president, his family, members of his cabinet defence minister under ousted President Ferdinand Marcos.

Polls show Thatcher on course to victory looked set to win an unprecedented third consecutive term in the June 11 general election as opinion polls Sunday put her firmly in the lead with only four days to go.

One poll, conducted by Harris for the Observer newspaper, gave the ruling Conservatives 44 per cent of the votes, the Labour Party 33 per cent and the centrist Alliance 21.

A Mari poll for the Sunday Times also gave the Tories an 11-point lead with 43 per cent of the votes. Labour received 32 per cent and the Liheral-Social Democrat Alliance 24 per cent. A Gallup survey for the Sunday

Telegraph, gave the conservatives 41.5 per cent. Labour 34.5 and the Alliance 22.5.

Under Britain's winner-takesall voting system, the first two poils would give the Conservatives an overall majority of more than 84 seats in the 650-member Hause of Commons. The third would give them around 37 seats, compared to 144 at the moment. The surveys of between 1,087 and 1,275 people between Jime 3 and 5 showed Mrs. Thatcher had firmly regained the lead in the campaign after Labour last week appeared to catch np and made shares tumble on the London

Stock Exchange. The Tories are promising prosperity and wealth with more free enterprise Thatcherism. which they say has tripled the number of share owners since and a soldier were killed when gunmen attacked two military camps near Colombo, the Sri ers were killed and 10 more captured during an early morning

raid on the island's maian air force base at Katunayake, 32

The government said the ont-

lawed People's Liberation Front, mainly recruited from Sri Lanka's

Sinhalese majority, was responsible for both attacks, which were

Defence Ministry officials said

15 gunmen drove in a van into the

Ratmalana Military Training

Academy, 15 kilometres south of try and escaped with 17 Chinese rifles and 2,500 rounds of ammunition. An officers was in-

At Katunayake, five men dressed in air force uniforms overpowered guards at two checkpoints and allowed 50 other rebels onto

While most headed for the

the hase, the officials said.

simultaneous.

kilometres west of Colombo.

A statement said three attack-

Lankan government said.

4 killed in raids on two Sri

COLOMBO (R) - Three rebels armoury in search of weapons, der's vehicle.

attacked.

Tamil rioting.

Lankan military camps

LONDON (R) — British Prime 1979, boosted the average work-Minister Margaret Thateher er's take-home pay by 21 per cent and kept inflation in check.

Mrs. Thatcher, 61, would be the first British prime minister to win a consecutive third term in office since Britain's modern parliamentary system was established in the Reform Act of 1832.

Neil Kinnock's Labour Party is pledged to a non-nuclear Britain-- scrapping the country's inde-pendent nuclear deterrent and ordering out U.S. nuclear arms and a caring government which will take the unemployed, sick and elderly under its wing.

The party, which now stands at an average nine percentage points behind the Tories, has taken a battering over its defence policy and suffered another hlow Sunday with a military chief warning Britain's defence could not be guaranteed under Labour.

"The Labour Party would, in a matter of weeks, effectively des-troy NATO alliance and cause the breakdown of the West's collective defence," Admiral of the Fleet Lord Lewin was quoted as saying in the Sunday Telegraph

Lord Lewin, who was head of the armed forces during the 1982 Falklands war against Argentina, added: "Had this happened to me when I was chief of the defence staff, I would have told Mr. Kinnock that his policy would destroy the country's defences and that I could not support it."

"If he insisted on its implementation, I would have had to resign," Lord Lewin said.

three got into the base comman-

Guards fired at them as they drove towards the main gate. The vehicle ran into a ditch and its occupants were killed, officials said. Ten attackers were cap-

Officials said it was the first time that key military installations close to Colombo had been

The front, whose members are mainly from Sri Lanka's

Sinhalese majority, was banned

in July 1983 after it was accused of taking part in widespread anti-

Mor than 10,000 front members died when the government officials recently warned that the guerrillas were training new

India and Sri Lanka, meanwhile, beld discussions Saturday

over further food aid to the beleagured northern Jaffna peninsula

amid reports of further fighting between government troops and forces in secret jungle camps.

COLUMNS 768

Moroccan children play AIDS game

RABAT (R) - Moroccan schoolchildren have devised an AIDS game in their playgrounds, the daily Al Bayane has reported. One child is deemed to carry the disease and has to run after the others. Anybody caught is "infected." The game ends when AIDS has been passed to all the "healthy" players. The last official report on acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) in Morocco, carried by the Moroccan News Agency MAP in Fehrnary, said that two cases were diagnosed in Casablanca and both victims appeared to have contracted the disease abroad.

Curry murder suspects released

SINGAPORE (R) — A Singapore judge has released six members of a family charged with murdering or helping in the murder of a man whose body was later cut up and cooked in a curry. In a ruling the judge granted the six a discharge after the prosecution said it had insufficient evidence. Three brothers and their sister, Nagaratha Vally Ramiah, 33, were arrested last March and accused of murdering her husband in December, 1984. Their mother and the wife of one of the brothers were accused of abetting them in the murder of Ayakanno Marimuthn, 37, a caretaker. The four were alleged to have bludgeoned the victim to death with an iron rod in a church compound. The man's cooked remains, including pieces of skull and bones, were packed into plastic bags and thrown into several roadside dustbins.

Convicted murderer executed in U.S.

ANGOLA, Louisiana (AP) - A man condemned for the murder of a guard during a bank robbery was executed early Sunday in the electric chair. Benjamin Berry was put to death shortly after midnight, said an official from the State Department of Corrections. He was the 76th prisoner executed in the United States since the U.S. supreme court allowed states to restore the death penalty in 1976. Berry's appeals ran out late Friday when the supreme court refused to stop the execution and Louisiana State Governor Edwin Edwards said he would not step in.

Dog gets gold heroism award

BOSTON (AP) - A 10-year-old German shepherd that was shot four times, saving his 78-year-old owner's life, has been honoured for heroism. King, 45 kilogramme shepherd, received a gold medal Thursday from the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals for protecting his owner during a housebreak by an armed intruder. "I've got no friend but him," said King's owner, Thomas Perkins, 78, of the city's Dorchester section. "He saved my life two or three times. He's ready now if he had to be. 'King was shot four times on Jan. 5, 1986, when he lunged at a gunman who broke into Perkings' second-floor apartment and yelled, "give it up, old man." The dog set upon the gunman while Perkins hid in a closet. The assailant fied out a window without Perkins' money. A 23-year-old man arrested five days later is awaiting trial on an armed robbery charge issued in the break-in, authorities said. A veterinarian amputated a toe on the dog's right paw and removed a bullet from his thigh. But two bullets imbedded in the muscle in King's neck and shoulder were left there because they were not near any vital organs.

Americans favour AIDS testing

WASHINGTON (R) - Americans tank AIDS above cancer or heart disease as the number-one health threat to the nation and overwhelmingly favour testing, according to a poll. The poll, taken by the ABC Television Network in connection with a four-hour broadcast symposium on acquired immune deficiency sease (AIDS), showed 70 per cent of those surveyed considered AIDS the major health problem, compared with 12 per cent naming cancer and three per cent heart disease. The June 2 telephone poll of 509 adults showed 98 per cent wanted AIDS tests made easily available. Although President Reagan and Vice President George Bush were booed in the past week for calling for some mandatory tests, 85-to-86 per cent of those questioned in the poli called for testing of prison inmates, military personnel, immigrants, and those getting married. Almost as many favoured AIDS testing as part of routine medical checkups, and 58 per cent were willing to allow employers to test their workers. More than six in 10 of those surveyed agreed with the statement, "mandatory AIDS testing would lead to discrimination against those found to have the disease." But 80 per cent nevertheless said stopping the spread of the disease should take precedence over individual

Austrians break up drug ring

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Austrian security police have broken up an international drug ring that was organised and financed by hockey star Jiri Bubla, according to a statement by the Interior Ministry. Others arrested included Austrian, Polish, Canadian, Israeli and Czech citizens, the statement said. Bubla, a Czech ice hockey player who has lived in Canada for several years, allegedly organised and financed the operation together with Czech-born Canadian Joseph Janda, the statement said. Anna Pola, an Austrian, born in Czechoslovakia, made several trips to Pakistan, Thailand and Canada as part of the operation, the statement said. Pola, Janda, Bubla and several others whose names the ministry withheld, allegedly smuggled a total of 33.5 kilogrammes of high-quality heroin into Austria, the statement said, then smug-gled the drug to Canada.

Jazz great celebrates 70th birthday

NEW YORK (AP) - Jazz great Dizzy Gillespie, who turned 70 on Friday, kicked off a weekend of celebration with a high-spirited, musical party at a midtown hotel. About 100 fellow musicians, including Carmen McRae, Mongo Santa Maria and Lalo Schifrin, attended the gathering at the New York Penta Hotel. They sang an impressive rendition of "happy birthday" and helped Gillespie make a start on a five-tiered cake. After the party, the trumpet player led a musical parade across Seventh Avenue and into Penn Station, where they all boarded a special train to the Wolf Trap Performing Arts Centre in Virginia, outside Washington.

2 men beaten unconscious in theatre

COLUMBIA, Maryland (AP) — A man who asked a noisy movie theatre patron to lower his voice was beaten unconscious along with his brother hy 10 men while the andience kept watching a gangster film. The hrothers were carried down the aisle from their seats in the rear of the theatre, thrown on the floor in front of the screen and kicked and beaten while pleas for help from one of their wives went unanswered, said Sgt. Angus Park of Howard County Police. Only two people said they yelled for help, according to police. No one else recalled seeing or hearing anything. The incident began Wednesday when William A. Murphy, 24, his wife, Tina, 25, and his brother, Robert W. Murphy, 27, were sitting towards the rear of the theatre watching the literarchelles a new principal site. the Untouchables, a new crime film, police said. William Murphy the Untouchables, a new crime film, police said. William Mirrohy asked a man sitting in the same row to lower his voice. After the third request, the man started hitting Murphy, police said. When Murphy tried to push the man aside, nine other men string behind them joined in the tracis, Park said. The 10 melt there picked up the brothers and carried them down the aside kicking and screaming while Mrs. Murphy yelled for help and for someone to turn the house on according to Park. The 10 assailants fied and the two men were regaining consciousness by the time review arrived he said. The Murchy brothers were referenced the said. the time police arrived, he said. The Murphy brothers were taken to a hospital where they were freezed for head injuries, bringes. and scrapes and released.

It said an alleged NPA com-mander was killed and four aides be supported.

Quezon province Saturday.

Pangasinan province.

nacular newspaper Jang in La-hore because the foundation's trustees felt that his involvement in journalism for children should

The Reuter Foundation created an additional fellowship at Oxford in 1984 in memory of

Najmul Hasan, a Reuter correspondent from India who was killed on the Iran-Iraq war front in 1983. It has now established a fellowship for photo-journalists

at the University of Missouri,

U.S.A, in memory of Willie

Reuter foundation announces awards Vicoy, a Renter photographer fatally injured in an ambush in the northern Philippines in 1985. The Jordanian journalist Norma Marcos, aged 35, will study at Stanford University.

The Renter Foundation was established in 1982. Its aim is to help narrow the gap between developed and developing countries in the use of information technology and to provide research opportunities for talented journalists and photo-journalists from developing countries.

Honecker plans to visit W. Germany

BERLIN (AP) - East German ADN quoted Mr. Honecker as renewed the invitation. leader Erich Honecker has saying agreed to make an unprecedented visit to West Germany but has not set a date, the state- and the news agency carried the run East German News Agency (ADN) quoted him as saying.

It would be the first visit by any East German Communist Party chief to West Germany.

"Regarding my visit in the FRG (West Germany), there is basic agreement to carry it out. We only need to agree to a date appropriate for both sides."

ADN said he spoke in an interview with a Japanese journalist, text of the interview.

Mr. Honecker, who came to power in East Germany in 1971, has had a standing invitation to visit West Germany since Helmut Schmidt became chancellor in

When Chancellor Helmut Kohl was elected in October 1982, he

The trip has been planned several times, but it always was cancelled when relations between East Germany and West Germany cooled or when the Soviet Union pressured East Germany.

Mr. Honecker's comments came after a week of media specalation about possible plans for Mr. Honecker to visit Bonn. West German officials have refused to say whether they are planning to receive him this year.

Pope Marian

from various countries such politics can only be destructive, He spoke as ousted Prime Minister Timoci Bavadra flew to London to petition Queen Elizabeth and lobby the British government for support in his cam-> placed in the square, told pilgrims Mary had been the first to receive accept Christ's reign.

> "And with this faith Mary walked constantly at the side of Christ for all his earthly life, even until she stood below the cross at > for Mary, who he believes saved his life in 1981, when he was seriously wounded by a Turkish gunman. The shooting took place on the anniversary of the day she is said to have first appeared to three shepherd children in Fati-inaugurates

VATICAN (R) - Thousands of Roman citizens, pilgrims and tourists packed into St. Peter's square at midnight to attend a mass held by Pope John Paul to celebrate the start of a year of

During the ceremony, lit with candles and floodlights, the Pontiff welcomed the opening of the Marian Year — a period of 14 months specially dedicated to the mother of Christ.

the holy spirit within herself and

The Pope has a special devotion ma, Portugal.

The Pontiff was due to continue his devotions with a visit the Marian Shrine of the Divino Amore (Divine Love) just outside Rome.

rosary from St. Mary Major Basilica, the oldest church in the world dedicated to the Virgin. As the Pope recited the rosary, the Catholic Church's traditional form of prayer to Mary, satellites linked him to 16 Marian shrines throughout the world, including three shrines where Mary is said to have appeared - Lourdes in France, Fatima in Portugal and Guadelupe in Mexico.

Sihanouk denies planning talks with Hanoi BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk has

jured in the raid.

denied that his decision to resign as leader of the Kampuchean resistance coalition was made in order to negotiate with Vietnamese or the Kampuchean governments.

But Prince Sihanouk left the door open to such contacts. "I have not had and I do not have any contact with the people from Hanoi or Phnom or Moscow and I do not have any plan to establish any contact whatsoever," Sihanouk said in a May 29 telegramme to his son and representative in Bangkok, Prince Norodom Ranariddh. However, Sihanouk added, "if one day a person from the oppo-site camp would like to come to greet me, I shall not fail to let the

A copy of the telegram was received Sunday from Sihanouk's Bangkok office.

Sihanouk recently announced he was stepping down as President of the Coalition Government of Democratic Kampuchea until May 7, 1988. He said this was because the Khmer Rouge, one of his coalition partners, was attacking his forces instead of cooperating on the hattlefield and was abusing refugees in Khmer Rouge-controlled camps.

Sihanouk has condemned the Communist Khmer Rouge's massacres in Kampuchea in 1975-78, hut has allied himself with it since 1982 because it is the strongest of the three guerrilla groups fighting Vietnamese forces that occupied

Kampuchea and installed the Phnom Penh government of President Heng Samrin.

Diplomats speculated that Sihanouk, frustrated hy the impasse on the Kampuchean conflict, resigned to talk directly to Vietnam or Phnom Penh, which he could not do as coalition president, mainly because of opposi-tion from the Khmer Rouge and its Chinese backers.

In the telegram, Sihanonk asked his son to make known that "speculation ... I was simply looking for a pretext to negotiate with Vietnam and (Phnom Penh) are unjust ...

This intention, be said, "does not exist hut in the imagination of foreigners and Khmers who despise me.

Chinese forestry minister was sick when fire broke out

PEKING (R) — China's forestry minister, sacked for his handling of the country's worst forest fire liament), had to bear most rem memnry, was in hospital when it hroke out and did not get to the scene for more than two weeks, the Penple's Daily said Sunday.

The daily and all other major papers printed a speech by Vice Premier Tian Jiyun tn a meeting of the State Council Saturday which contains a savage indictment of the minister, Yang Zhong, and his department.

"The basie cause of the fire was not nature or the five forestry workers who infringed regulations but chaotic management, slack discipline and bureaucratism," Mr. Tian said.

Five forestry workers were arrested last month for starting fires. Three were charged with throwing cigarette ends onto grass, one with spilling oil and another for producing sparks from a chain saw.

"The fire exposes serious hureaucratism and irresponsibility in the leadership of the Fore-

sponsibility for the fire in the north-east province of Heilong-

The hlaze raged for 25 days last month, killing nearly 200 people, leaving 50,000 homeless and devastating one million hectares (2.5 million acres) of land.

"Comrade Yang was chronically ill in hospital and it was not until after more than two weeks that he himself went to the scene of the fire," said Mr. Tian, one of two vice-premiers who have visited the disaster area.

"Yang made no criticism of himself. It was only after comrades from the central leadership consured him several times that he made a clear self-criticism," he

Mr. Tian said the damage caused by the fire could not be measured in cash terms alone and it would take decades for the forests to grow again.

Mr. Tian also drew attention to other major accidents in China

3 police commanders resign LIMA, Peru (AP) — The naders have resigned in the wake of a four-day police strike, the gov-ernment said Saturday. Interior Minister Abel Salinas

Several Lima newspapers said the government had requested the resignations.

Mr. Salinas named Gen. Octavio Herrera to replace Gen. Rodriguez as the overall commander of the nation's three police forces, which together comprise about 75,000 police officers. Gen. Bernedo and Gen. Cabello had headed two of the forces.

Gen. Ruhen Romero was appeals for national unity SUVA (R) - Fiji's governor- last month, remained serious, Year devotion to the Virgin Mary.

The Pope, praying before an icon of the Virgin and child

Golgotha," he said.

On Saturday night the Pope officially inaugurated the Marian year with a televised recital of the stry Ministry," Mr. Tian said.

He said Mr. Yang, whose dismissal has to be confirmed by the

Peru's top

tion's top three police comman-named replacements for generals Carlos Rodriguez, Alberto Bernedo and Faber Cabello, who he said had failed to quell the strike, which "undermined authority and broke the principle of discipline" within police ranks.

named successor to Gen. Bernedo as head of the civil guard.

general appealed to the nation to and it faced economic destruction if strikes and trade hans were not put aside what be called the abandoned. politics of fear and racial aggres-"As your governor-general, sion, and to give him support to the main appeal I would make to return the country to democracy. you today is that you all put aside In an emotionally-worded radio address, Ratu Sir Penaia the politics of fear and racial aggression which have emerged over the last few weeks. We know

Fijian governor-general

Ganilau said be helieved Fiji had moved back from "the brink of despair and destruction on which we had been poised for the last

But he said the situation facing the South Pacific country.

plunged into a constitutional and political crisis by a military coup paign for reinstatement GOREN BRIDGE

> BY CHARLES GOREN AND OMAR SHARIF M IS FOR MERRIMAC COUP

Both vulnerable. South deals. EAST 4852 7 K 1086 ♦ QJ 108 ♥8753 ♥8754 ♣7 ♦ Q 10 3 SOUTH AK4 ∇QJ2 OAK28 ♣KJ4 The bidding:
South West North East
2 NT Pass 3 NT Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Queen of 4

In 1898, the Merrimac was scuttied to block Santiago Harbor channel. The vessel has given its name to the "Merrimac Coup," where an unsupported high card is sacrificed to block entry to a key hand. North-South were employing a 21-22 range for their opening two points, a six-card minor suit and a relatively balanced hand. North had no interest in any contract other than three no trump. West led the top of his spade sequence, and declarer saw no point

no trump bid. With 5 high-card to dummy, declarer could not af-ford to cross to the table for a club finesse, so he made the fine play of the king from hand. East held up. then won the club continuation with the queen as West discarded a The threat of the club suit was there for all to see, and the only entry was the ace of hearts. That > er, it would not be good enough for East simply to shift to a low heart; declarer would win in hand and lead his last club, and the ace of hearts would still be there as the entry to run the suit. East found the winning defense and shifted to the king of hearts. Now declarer had three heart tricks instead of Iwo, but he had no way to enjoy the board's long clubs. Holding up the ace of hearts would not help, since East would continue with another heart; taksuil had to be attacked at once if the defense was to prevail. Howev-

in holding up. With only one entry

ing the ace would remove the only sure entry to dummy. Declarer tried his best by win ning with the ace of hearts and setting up clubs. After ducking a spade, he tried to reach dummy with the jack of diamonds, but even if West held the queen the defenders would have five trickstwo spades, two clubs and one